To secure uniformity of practice, all recommendations by Commissioners for the grant of travelling allowance at mileage rates are now scrutinized by the Board of Revenue. In a letter No 3647, dated the 8th November 1879, the Government of India, in the Financial Department, suggested that, in order to prevent diversity of practice in different divisions, "it would perhaps be necessary to lay down some rules for the guidance of Commissioners in the exercise of their discretion."

This subject has been considered by the Committee, and the Lieutenant-Governor will now move the Government of India to sanction the adoption of the following rules, which will apply alike to Sub-Deputy Collectors and Canongoes:—

(1)—When the distance travelled is fifteen miles or less in the day, no travelling allowance is to be allowed in any case.

(2)—When the distance travelled is over fifteen miles in the day, a daily rate of Rs. 1-8 may be allowed.

(3)—For travelling longer journeys by dâk, when for special reasons it is necessary to proceed at a more rapid rate than fifteen miles a day, a mileage rate of four annas a mile, or the railway rates of one-and-a-half annas a mile, may be awarded, provided that the authority passing the bill is satisfied that it was necessary to proceed at a specially rapid rate.

(4)—In all cases coming under rule 3, a certificate will be required from the District Officer that it was necessary to proceed at a specially rapid rate.

As suggested by the Committee, the final authority for passing bills will be the Divisional Commissioner.

7. In consequence of the reduction in the number of Canoongoes employed, some slight changes in the divisional distribution of the Subordinate Executive Service generally have been rendered necessary. On this point the Lieutenant-Governor accepts the views of the Committee, which are understood to have been arrived at in consultation with the Commissioners. The following table shows the strength of the present staff attached to each division, and the changes which will be effected by this Resolution:—

	Sub-Deputy Collectors.		Canoongoes.		Total.
	Before revision.	After revision.	Before revision.	After revision.	Before revision.	After revision.

8. The last point considered by the Committee is the establishment of chainmen and messengers, the annual cost of which now amounts to Rs. 38,220 per mensem. It has been found that these men are unnecessarily employed in some districts; chainmen on Rs. 8 being either utilized as mohurirs, or employed as peons under the Sub-Deputy Collectors and Canongoes. In some cases also the Committee find that, instead of being discharged in the recess, when not wanted for field work, they are allowed to linger on in the sub-divisional or collectorate offices, and are employed in a general way on clerical or menial work. To obviate this, it is suggested, on the recommendation of the Board of Revenue, that Commissioners should be authorized to fix the salaries of chainmen and messengers or peons within the maxima of Rs. 8 and Rs. 6 respectively, and that a lump sum should be allotted to each division in proportion to its requirements and the strength of its upper staff.

Personally, the Lieutenant-Governor has some doubt as to whether these ministerial establishments are really required. On this point, however, he accepts the opinion of the Committee, and sanctions grants to each Commissioner on the following scale:—

	Staff.	Monthly allowance for chainmen and messengers.
		Rs.
Patna	27	375
Presidency	27	375
Burdwan	21	300
Bhagulpore	18	275
Dacca	16	250
Rajshahye	13	200
Chittagong	9	150
Chota Nagppre	5	60
Orissa	4	50
Total ...	140	2,035

The Lieutenant-Governor must, however, insist on steps being taken to ensure that these establishments are properly checked and employed only when actually required. The Board will be held responsible in this respect, and should themselves insist upon the responsibility of the Commissioners, to whom nominal rolls of the chainmen and messengers employed should be submitted by Collectors. In the absence of a check of this nature, it is not unlikely that the salaries of chainmen and messengers will be given to amla and their relatives.

8. The financial results of the proposed scheme will be as follows:—

Present scale.		Rs.	Scale now sanctioned.		Rs.
36	Sub-Dy. Collrs. at Rs. 150 each	=5,400	36	Sub-Dy. Collrs. at Rs. 150 each	=5,400
36	Ditto „ 100 „ ...	=3,600	37	Ditto „ 100 „ ...	=3,700
59	Canoongoes „ 50 „ ...	=2,950	17	Canoongoes „ 75 „ ...	=1,275
30	„ „ 25 „ ...	= 750	50	„ „ 50 „ ...	=2,500
161	costing monthly	12,700	140	costing monthly	12,875
		×12			×12
	Costing annually	1,52,400		Costing annually	1,54,500

There will therefore be under these heads a net decrease in strength of 21 officers, and an increase in expenditure of Rs. 2,100 per annum. The cost of chainmen and establishments will be Rs. 24,420 per annum. As the present cost amounts to Rs. 38,220 a saving will be effected on this account of Rs. 13,800. Setting against this the extra charges of Rs. 2,100 already mentioned, the total net saving under the present scheme will amount to Rs. 11,700.

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 1·0.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE HEALTH OFFICER OF THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR 1880.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MARINE.

Calcutta, the 2nd May 1881.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter No 653RA, dated the 6th April 1881, from the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal, submitting the report of the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta for the year 1880.

The report which appears again to have been somewhat unnecessarily delayed in the office of the Sanitary Commissioner is submitted by Dr. Lynch, who was Health Officer throughout the year under review.

2. The number of vessels inspected by the Health Officer continues to increase, and it is satisfactory to observe that this increase is accompanied by a steady fall in the number of deaths and of admissions to hospitals among seamen in the Port. All sailing vessels, large and small, and all steamers unprovided with a medical officer, are now regularly visited on arrival. Advice as to the treatment of the crews during the hot months, and with reference to the prevalence of cholera and other diseases, is tendered to masters, and is generally well received and acted upon.

The following table shows the figures for the past three years :—

	Vessels Inspected.			Deaths.	Admission to hospital.
	Incoming.	Outgoing.	Total.
1878 ...	494	358	852	80	3,292
1879 ...	509	416	925	61	2,126
1880 ...	607	498	1,105	49	2,005

3. In four cases small-pox was brought into the river in pilgrim ships from Jeddah ; but the spread of the disease was prevented by the prompt measures taken by the Vaccination Department in sending lymph and vaccinators on board immediately. The necessity for giving 15 days' notice imposed by the Compulsory Vaccination Act of 1880 renders that Act practically inoperative in cases of this nature, where protection to be effectual must be immediate. Fortunately, there seems to exist little or no opposition to the measures taken by the Department. In one case also small-pox appeared on board a vessel from the Maldive Islands In this instance, however, the disease was apparently contracted on shore, and though it spread to four other vessels from the same islands, there was no extension of it beyond the cases first detected. The Port Officer notices one case in which the master of a vessel reported that he had found a cooly working on board his ship with the scabs of small-pox still on his skin The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that care will be taken to carry out the suggestion of the Sanitary Commissioner that cases of this kind should in future be dealt with under the Indian Penal Code.

4. In connection with pilgrim ships, the Turkish Government in February 1880 issued a réglement providing for increased space for pilgrims and for the presence on board of a doctor whenever the number of pilgrims embarked should exceed 100. A case in which this order was evaded by the debarkation of the medical officer at Aden has recently been brought to the notice of the Government of India.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the rules for the better provision of hospital accommodation on board native passenger vessels will continue to be strictly attended to.

6. The enquiry as to the health and treatment of lascar crews alluded to in last year's Resolution has been continued. Only one case of ill-treatment, in which the food supplied to the crew was deficient both in quantity and quality, was brought to notice, and compensation was subsequently made to the crew. The death-rate, so far as it could be ascertained, among lascars at sea was little over six per mille. It is impossible to gather perfectly accurate statistics on this point, and the figures given are probably somewhat below the truth; but there seems every reason to believe that native crews serving in English vessels are well taken care of, are not liable to excessive sickness or mortality, and, as a rule, are satisfied with their treatment at sea.

7. The Health Officer brings to notice the fact that the Port was visited during the year by several vessels which were originally designed for the Baltic or North American trade, and which are utterly unsuited for tropical voyages, their decks being of iron, their ventilation and accommodation insufficient, and the stifling heat on board almost unbearable. These vessels are passed by the Board of Trade Surveyors, and suggestions for their improvement are unavailing, as their owners are understood to refuse to make any alterations in them. The Lieutenant-Governor will address the Government of India with a view to a representation being made to the Board of Trade on the subject.

8. It has been found possible at last to prevent the nuisance of the discharge into the river of the night-soil from the Fort. With this the last of the prominent causes of preventible sickness existing on the Calcutta bank of the Hooghly has been removed. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Commissioners of the Howrah Municipality will lose no more time in putting the foreshore under their control into a satisfactory state. Orders have recently issued explaining to the Commissioners their responsibilities and powers in connection with this matter. The attention of the Port Commissioners and of the Calcutta Corporation will be drawn to the Health Officer's remarks in paragraph 15 of his report regarding the insufficiency of the present latrine accommodation near the Calcutta foreshore. The authorities of the 24-Pergunnahs district must similarly do what they can to improve the state of the bank below Matiabruj.

9. As in previous years, of all the vessels visiting Calcutta, Arab ships alone refused to take water from the municipal hydrants. It is hoped that the Municipality has now provided the supply tanks with proper covers, the want of which was pointed out by Dr. Lynch. Another improvement, which it rests with the Municipal Commissioners to carry out, is the drainage of the burning ghâts at Nimtollah and Kasi Mitter's Ghât. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the nuisance which at present results from the washing into the river of rain-water contaminated by contact with these places may be obviated without delay.

10. The following statement compares the sickness and mortality of the last three years under the different diseases prevalent:—

	1880.		1879.		1878.
	Admitted.	Died.	Admitted	Died.	Admitted.	Died.
Cholera	23	14	42	25	45	29
Diarrhœa	109	.....	149	3	282	... ..
Dysentery	130	1	132	5	176	8
Fever, Enteric	1	1	4	2	7	3
,, Malarious	197	1	705	2	1,117	3
,, Simple	204	.....	.. ...	..	... ..	.. ..
Scurvy	18	... .	13	1	12	. ..
Small-pox	5	1	15	1	1
Sunstroke or Heat Apoplexy	29	1	3	2	42	10
Other diseases	1,289	30	1,063	20	1,070	27
Total ...	2,005	49	2,126	61	3,298	80

The general improvement in the health of the Port is very marked, and the diminution in the number of cases of bowel-complaints and fevers is satisfactory proof of the success of the measures adopted of late years for improving its sanitary condition.

11. The number of cases of sunstroke in 1880 shows a large increase as compared with the previous year, but falls far below that of 1878.

The different results are in each year no doubt attributable partly to varying meteorological conditions, and partly, it may be suspected, to some differences in the mode of returning cases; but in some degree also the endeavours made to prevent unnecessary exposure of sailors on boardship have been successful in preventing mortality.

12. The number of cases of cholera admitted to hospital was 23 against 42 and 45 respectively in 1879 and 1878; while the deaths from this cause were 14 against 25 and 29. The monthly distribution of this disease on the river seems to coincide with its distribution on shore, and the decline in mortality from this cause among the seamen corresponds very closely with the figures for the whole town, which were in 1878, 1,282; in 1879, 1,079; and in 1880, 762.

13. The number of reported cases of scurvy was 18, none of which appeared to be due to deficiency either in diet or in the quantity of lime-juice issued. An enquiry, instituted by Dr. Lynch, has, however, shown that lime-juice is issued generally in a most haphazard manner; few of the stewards to whom the duty of its distribution is entrusted knowing what quantity should be served out to each man. Carelessness of this kind must necessarily go far to neutralize the orders of the Board of Trade on the subject.

14. The daily average number of European sailors living on boardship in Port is estimated at 1,400, and it is believed that the number living on shore averaged about 250. Taking these figures as a basis for the calculation, the annual death-rate among the former was 32 per mille as against 20 per mille among the latter. According to the census of 1876, the native floating population of the Port was 16,296. The deaths reported during the year were 114, giving a death-rate of 7 per mille. Of these only 31 died in hospital.

15. The relations of the Port Health Officer with commanders of vessels have apparently been satisfactory. Dr. Lynch again, however, notices the want of a Health Act to enable him to deal with cases of such contagious or infectious diseases as make their appearance on board vessels lying in the Port. Powers are required for causing the removal to hospital of persons suffering from infectious disease; for ordering the disinfection and cleaning of vessels when necessary, and recovering from owners the expenses incurred in removing, disinfecting, and cleaning vessels; for inspecting food exposed for sale on boats, and for preventing the sale of unwholesome articles of food and drink. This subject will be considered in connection with the Bill which it is proposed to introduce into the Supreme Council for the further amendment of the law relating to merchant shipping.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that the launch supplied for the use of the Health Officer should be unsuited to the work required of her. The attention of the Port Officer will be drawn to the matter.

17. The thanks of Government are due to Dr. Lynch for his efficient supervision of the sanitation of the Port during the past year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is, about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2·65 lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

JOHN ELIOT,
for Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of India.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the four weeks ending 26th March 1881

Report on Goods Traffic for the four weeks ending 26th March 1881.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SEALDAH TERMINUS

Dated Calcutta, the 21st April 1881.

From—JAMES BRANDER, Esq., Traffic Superintendent,
To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, Sealdah.

In submitting the attached report of traffic for four weeks ending the 26th March last I beg to point out that the total weight of goods carried over this Railway during that period was 6,41,134 maunds, showing an increase of 1,07,494 maunds, as compared with the corresponding period last year.

From the report, it will be seen that the following commodities have chiefly contributed to this increase, viz cotton, gunny, hides, jute, piece-goods, "European;" turmeric, twist, "Indian;" and miscellaneous goods. On the other hand, there has been a decrease, in grain, including rice, railway material, foreign; salt, seeds, sugar, tobacco, and European twist.

Increases.

Cotton in bundles and bales ... ... Mds. 6,886
The market still continues firm.

Gunny in bundles and bales ... ... „ 1,369
There is still a demand for these, and as there is only a limited quantity offering, prices are good.

Hides in bundles and bales ... ... „ 561
Prices for these are now steady, although the market is not brisk.

Jute in drums and bales ... ... „ 53,812
An improvement in the price at home for this staple accounts for this increase

Piece-goods, "European" ... ... „ 4,929
A brisk demand at Mofussil stations accounts for this increase.

Turmeric ... ... „ 4,331
There is still a demand for this with fair prices.

Indian twist ... ... „ 2,170
Up country demands account for this increase.

Miscellaneous goods ... ... „ 1,09,342
The continued facilities afforded to merchants and the general public account for this large increase

Decreases.

Grain, including rice ... ... Mds 19,006
This decrease is due to a dull market with but few demands for export.

Railway material, foreign ... ... „ 5,143
The last report's remarks apply to this item.

Salt ... ... „ 9,635
There has been but little doing and no demand.

Sugar ... ... „ 16,325
But little business has been done in this commodity, and a low market without demands accounts for the decrease.

Tobacco ... ... „ 1,602
There has been no demand and prices are low

European twist ... ... „ 943
There has been but little done lately in this branch of trade; the present market is dull, with but few buyers.

Seeds ... ... „ 22,601
The market has been very dull, and prices are low.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of March 1881.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of March 1881 aggregated 2,55,170 maunds, as compared with 1,91,260 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1880, and 2,07,849 maunds as carried during the previous month, showing an increase of 63,910 maunds in the one case, and of 47,321 maunds in the other. 15,354 maunds of railway material carried during the month for the Eastern and Western Extension of Tirhoot State Railway have been taken into account.

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanation:—

	Mds.
INCREASES.
Coal.—The explanations given in previous months are applicable to this	26,111
Iron.—This entirely depends upon local requirements, such as building of sheds by indigo concern, erection of small iron bridges by Road Cess, and other works requiring iron both in Durbhunga and Mozufferpore	1,830
Lime and Kunkur.—This also depends on works under construction in the district	17,739
Oil-cakes.—This is a through export traffic, and the increase is satisfactory	1,924
Salt.—As the rivers become shallow and navigation more difficult, this traffic leaves the boats for the Railway	1,942
Seeds, Indigo.—The reduction in rates of carriage is the main cause of the increase under this head, but as the season is over, and all the indigo concerns have completed their sowings, this traffic will now stop	17,257
Seeds, oil.—Though the new crop has just come out, the business done is not so satisfactory owing to the foreign markets being tight	10,758
Tobacco.—The new crop has been harvested and a further increase is anticipated. The business done in this month is satisfactory	8,438
DECREASES.
Food grains.—This traffic is rapidly falling owing to abundant harvest everywhere throughout India, and this stands a bar to the export traffic	14,458
Hides and Horns.—The continued decrease in this staple of traffic is due to the low prices in America and other markets	5,860
Potatoes.—There is no more demand in this district owing to the market being overstocked ..	1,244
Saltpetre—Correspondence with the Inland Custom Department shows that the prices of saltpetre are at present so very low that though the saltpetre trade is recovering from the check it received in the district owing to the late stringent rules of Government, and though manufacture is looking up, still the market is so dull that merchants will not export	17,272
Sundries—This is due to the general depression in trade	1,826

SOMASTIPUR the 10*th April* 1881.

A. W. U. POPE, Offg Asst. Traffic Superintendent

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Patna and Gya State Railway for the month of March 1881.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of March 1881 aggregated 1,56,970 maunds, as compared with 1,36,545 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1880, and 1, 3,921 maunds carried during the previous month, showing an increase of 20,425 maunds in the one case, and 42,849 maunds in the other. Two hundred and seventy-five maunds of railway material carried during the month of March 1880 have not been taken into account

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanation :—

INCREASES.

	Mds.
Cotton.—This is import traffic from Cawnpore and other stations in North-Western Provinces, for sale at Gya and other markets in the interior of the district	3,645
Jaggree.—This is one of the principal staples of traffic of this line, and is exported to Khandwa, Bombay, and other stations on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway; the increase is most satisfactory It being our most important traffic most attention has been paid to its quick and safe despatch	20,655
Lime and Kunkur.—This entirely depends upon the requirements of the Road Cess and other engineering works	1,797
Potatoes.—There is an increase on this head and that cannot well be explained	1,454
Salt.—This is for consumption in the district, and is imported from Patna, Howrah, and other stations in North-Western Provinces	3,945
Seeds, oil.—This traffic will look up shortly as the new crop has just been harvested	1,095
Sundries.—This for the most part consists of bamboos and other articles and cannot well be explained	4,959
Timber.—The increase under this head is due to works under construction, such as minor bridges, culverts, &c., by Road Cess	1,715
Chillies.—The new crop has been harvested, hence the increase	5,431

DECREASES.

Coal.—The decrease is due to there being no demand in the district for brick-burning and other purposes for which it was imported	2,354
Food grains.—Almost all the crops throughout India have been most favorable; the prices have fallen low, and hence the decrease	5,636
Hides and Horns.—This depends upon local collection which decreases as the health of cattle in the district improves	668
Saltpetre.—Correspondence with the Inland Custom Department shows that the prices of saltpetre are at present so very low that though the saltpetre trade is recovering from the check it received in the district owing to the late stringent rules of Government, and though manufacture is looking up, still the market is so dull that merchants will not export	7,338
Stones and Stone ballast, &c.—This depends upon requirements of the public and works under construction in the district	5,148
Sugar.—On account of high prices, transactions in sugar are dull	7,463

NOTIFICATION.

The 13th May 1881.—The following additions and amendments to the rules for the grant of leases for tea cultivation in the districts of Julpigoree and Darjeeling, which were published at page 1116 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 16th October 1878, and two subsequent issues, having been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, are notified for general information:—

(1.) Rule 11A.—The Deputy Commissioner shall at once send a copy of any order passed under rule 11 to the Conservator of Forests, in order that an estimate may be made by the Forest Department of the value of any forest trees standing on the land. The Conservator of Forests will depute an officer to examine the land, and make a detailed report suggesting the average rate per acre at which payment should be made for such trees. Such officer, in valuing the timber, shall have regard to its present market value on the spot, and to the local circumstances of the case, the accessibility of the grant, and the prospect of markets for timber becoming available during the currency of the lease. The Conservator will carefully examine the report, and forward it to the Deputy Commissioner with such remarks and alterations as he may think necessary. If the Deputy Commissioner, on receipt of the Conservator's decision, sees reason to object to the proposed rate per acre, he may refer the matter to the Commissioner, who shall take the orders of the Board of Revenue and of Government on any point on which he and the Conservator may eventually differ.

(2) In rule 20, line 3, for the words "and to pay for all valuable forest trees as provided in clause 10 of the preliminary lease He will also direct him to mark out," should be substituted "and to pay for forest trees the sum assessed under rule 11A. Payment for these may be made by instalments with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, which will only be given when the Board is fully satisfied of the good faith and solvency of the applicant. In such case the dates and amounts of the instalments shall be endorsed upon the lease, and the lessee must covenant that, in the event of his throwing up his lease, all outstanding instalments shall be forthwith recoverable from him under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880, whether the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not, but he shall have no further right to fell or remove timber from the grant. When granting the lease, the Deputy Commissioner will also direct the lessee to mark out the land leased by a continuous trench, or in such other manner as the Deputy Commissioner may direct. Within three months of the grant of such lease the lessee must, on pain of forfeiture of all rights in the land leased, mark out the land as above directed, and must further erect, at his own expense, such permanent boundary* marks as the Deputy Commissioner may direct. On the expiry of the three months, the surveyor must test the correctness of the boundary line and permanent marks and report the result to the Deputy Commissioner, at the same time pointing out to the lessee or his representative by written notice any corrections that may be required. If the corrections indicated are not made by the lessee or his representative within 30 days of the receipt of such notice, all rights in the land shall be liable to forfeiture to Government.

(3.) Clause 10 of the preliminary lease shall be altered to run: "Standing timber must be paid for at the average rate per acre intimated to the lessee by the Deputy Commissioner before possession is given under this lease, unless, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, payment by instalments has been allowed. In the latter case, payment must be made according to the schedule of instalments endorsed upon the lease In the event of the lessee throwing up the lease while any instalments due to Government on account of timber are unpaid, the lessee hereby agrees that all such instalments shall forthwith become due and be recoverable from him under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880, whether all the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not. But he shall have no right of any kind over any timber on the grant, cut or uncut, after the date of his so throwing up the lease."

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

* These boundary marks shall ordinarily consist of a masonry platform at every point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other lands meet, with large stones or mounds at every angle and at every 100 yards of the boundary line between such platforms and other marks.

VIII.—Every Account will be made up on the 31st March, and the interest then due, calculated under these Rules, added to the Balance upon which future interest will accrue. If an Account is closed on any other date, interest due to the end of the preceding Calendar Month will be paid to the Depositor; but a Depositor who closes an Account should not, ordinarily, be permitted immediately to reopen it, except on payment of a fine varying at the discretion of the Secretary from One to Ten Rupees.

IX.—Whenever a Depositor changes his residence, an Account may be transferred, free of charge, to the Government Saving Bank in the District to which the Depositor is removing. Without the special permission of the Comptroller, an Account may not be otherwise transferred from one Bank to another.

X.—A Deposit Book will be supplied to each Depositor in which the Secretary, or, if the Savings Bank is at a Public Treasury, the Treasury Officer, will acknowledge every Deposit. The personal attendance of a Depositor is not required; but no Deposit will be received, or payment made, without the Depositor's Deposit Book, and the Government will not be responsible for any Deposit, the receipt of which is not acknowledged in a Deposit Book. The interest, due to date, will be entered in each Deposit Book the first time that it is produced after the 31st March. The first Deposit Book will be supplied free of charge; but, if a Deposit Book is lost or injured, or if a Closed Account is reopened, one Rupee will be charged for a new book.

XI.—Without special permission, a Depositor may not draw upon his Account more than once in thirty days, or open more than one Account in his own name or in the name of any member of his family or for his own benefit or the benefit of any member of his family. The Comptroller-General must take precautions to prevent any transgression of this Rule, and, in particular, any employment of an account as an ordinary Drawing Account. This Rule is not meant to prevent any one from opening more than one ex-officio or public Account.

XII.—The Secretary may refuse to open any Account or may close any Account, for any sufficient reason, as, for example, because he thinks that the Account is likely to be used or is being used, contrary to the object with which Government Savings Banks are established, namely, the encouragement of saving.

XIII.—When the Secretary thinks it proper to close any Account, he shall give notice, in writing, to the Depositor, of such closure. After the date of such notice, no Deposit shall be accepted on the Account so closed, and no interest shall be allowed upon the Balance of the Closed Account after the end of the Calendar Month then current.

XIV.—These Rules apply as well to Accounts opened before as after their publication. Save that upon Accounts opened before the date of this Resolution, interest will be calculated, up to 31st May 1881, at the rate of 4½ per centum per annum, according to the rules prescribed in Nos. V, VI, and VII of the Resolution No. 3528 of 27th October 1880.

XV.—(1) Any person, whether a Depositor or not, who desires to purchase Government Securities, may make written application for the purpose at a Savings Bank. He will be required to tender in cash the amount necessary to complete the purchase, unless he has a sufficient deposit at his credit in the local Savings Bank. The purchase will be made through the Comptroller-General.

(2) The paper purchased will be of the 4 per cent. Loans, unless 4½ per cent. paper is specially applied for.

(3) The investor may also specially apply that the paper remain in the custody of the Comptroller-General, and that the interest be remitted as drawn to the local Savings Bank, for delivery to him. In this case the Comptroller-General will, if necessary, transfer the paper to the 4 per cent. Loan of 1865, and will remit the interest as applied for. The investor may at any time apply through the local Savings Bank for the delivery to him of paper thus held by the Comptroller-General. If application is not made under this clause, the paper purchased by the Comptroller-General will be enfaced for payment of interest at the local Treasury, and forwarded to the Savings Bank for delivery to the investor.

(4) An investor under these Rules may at any time apply in the same way for the sale of paper purchased through the Savings Bank whether held by himself, or held for him by the Comptroller-General.

(5) These arrangements are intended only for persons of moderate income, who belong to a class who do not ordinarily have transactions with Bankers, and the advantage of them must be refused both by the Savings Bank, and, if necessary, by the Comptroller-General, if the applicant is not within this definition, except in the case of a Government servant purchasing Government paper, in consequence of an order requiring him to give security.

(6) In the case of applications made at Savings Banks at Treasuries in the interior of the Madras and Bombay Presidencies, the duties here laid upon the Comptroller-General will be performed by the Accountants-General of Madras and Bombay respectively. And in the case of applications made at the Presidency Banks in the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, they will be performed by the Secretaries of those Banks, in the capacity of Secretaries of the Presidency Savings Banks.

(7) The following fees will be charged :—

On purchases : 4 annas per cent.
On realization and remittance of interest : 4 annas per cent.
On delivery out of custody : 4 annas per cent., unless the application for delivery is made within a year of the purchase.
On sales : 4 annas per cent., and any actual outlay upon brokerage.

These fees may be appropriated by the Presidency Banks, in the case of applications made in the Towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and complied with by the Secretaries of the Banks.

XVI.—The Governor-General in Council reserves the right to alter or add to these Rules at any time.

XVII.—A copy of the Government Savings Banks Act, 1873, and of these Rules, shall be printed in each Deposit Book delivered after this date, and the signature, or, if he cannot write, mark, of the Depositor obtained to the annexed declaration before any deposit is accepted from him.

XVIII.—These Rules shall come into force from the 1st June 1881.

Declaration to be recorded in accordance with Rule XVII.

I acknowlege that I have read these Rules (or, if he cannot read, that these Rules have been read to me).

REGISTRATION OF MAHOMEDAN MARRIAGES AND DIVORCES.

Dated Calcutta, the 1st March 1881.

From—H. J. S. COTTON, Esq., President of the Committee,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial Department.

WITH reference to the Resolution of Government dated 17th September 1880, I have the honor to submit herewith the report of the Committee appointed by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor to consider and report upon the Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces in Bengal.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED BY HIS HONOR THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR TO CONSIDER AND REPORT UPON THE REGISTRATION OF MAHOMEDAN MARRIAGES AND DIVORCES IN BENGAL.

IN accordance with the orders of Government, dated 17th September 1880, we have the honor to submit the following report "upon the whole subject of the registration of Mahomedan ceremonies, the rules and procedure under the present Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act, and the proposal to extend the Kazees Act to the Lower Provinces." A brief abstract of the proceedings of the several meetings of the Committee is appended as an annexure of the report.

2. We propose first to describe the history of Mahomedan marriage registration in Bengal, and the circumstances which have rendered it necessary to appoint a Committee to reconsider the existing arrangements.

3. Although, under the strict letter of the Mahomedan law, the presence of a Kazee may not be absolutely necessary in the celebration of a marriage, yet, as a matter of popular custom and feeling, a Kazee has always been considered necessary in India, and the need of proper and fit persons to fill such an office always exists. The office of Kazee is, therefore, essentially an institution arising out of the exigencies of Mahomedan society. The British Government did not create the office of Kazee; they found Kazees existing in every city, town, and pergunnah; and all that our earlier legislators sought to do was to define generally what the duties of Kazees were, and to provide that persons of proper character and competent legal attainments should be appointed to the office.

4. The judicial functions of the Kazees were discontinued in 1772, when courts of justice, under the superintendence of European Judges, were established; and with the exception of the law officers attached to the civil and criminal courts, the duties of Kazees in Bengal were from the time of Warren Hastings onward practically confined to the registration of deeds and the celebration* of Mahomedan marriages, and of other rites of a social or religious nature. The Kazees were, however, under the regulations subsequently enacted declared eligible to be Commissioners for the sale of property distrained on account of arrears of rent, as well as Commissioners for the trial of civil cases; and they were also entrusted by Government in certain cases with the payment of public pensions.

5. In the remarkable codification of Lord Cornwallis, enunciated in a series of forty-eight regulations, and promulgated on a single date, one whole regulation is devoted to the elaboration of rules for the appointment of Kazees and to prescribing the duties attaching to their office. As the regulation is very brief (and having been repealed, is not easily accessible), and as we shall subsequently refer to its provisions in the proposals we are about to make, we think it advisable to reproduce it in this report:—

A.D. 1793—REGULATION XXXIX.

A Regulation for the appointment of the Kazee-ul-Kazaat or Head Kazee of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, and the Kazees stationed in the several districts, and prescribing their respective duties; passed by the Governor-General in Council on the 1st May, 1793.

Preamble.

Kazees are stationed at the cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, and the principal towns, and in the pergunnahs, for the purpose of preparing and attesting deeds of transfer and other law papers, celebrating marriages, and performing such religious duties or ceremonies prescribed by the Mahomedan law as have been hitherto discharged by them under the British Government, and also for superintending the sale of distrained property, and paying charitable and other pensions and allowances under Regulations XVII and XXIV, 1793. The nature of the above-mentioned duties renders it necessary that persons of character, and duly qualified with respect to legal knowledge, should be appointed to these offices; and to encourage them to discharge their trusts with diligence and fidelity, they should not be liable to removal, unless proved guilty of incapacity or misconduct to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council. The following rules have been accordingly enacted—

Head Kazee of the three provinces to be appointed by the Governor-General in Council, not to be removed but for incapacity or misconduct proved to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council.

II. First.—The Kazee-ul-Kazaat, or Head Kazee of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, shall be appointed by the Governor-General in Council, and shall not be removable from his office, but for incapacity or misconduct in the discharge of his public duty, or acts of profligacy in his private conduct, proved to the satisfaction of the Governor-General in Council.

Seal of the Head Kazee.

Second.—The Head Kazee is to use a circular seal two inches in diameter, on which shall be inscribed the designation of his office and his name in the Persian language as follows:—"The seal of the Kazee-ul-Kazaat of the provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa (name of the Head Kazee)."

Rule in the preceding section applied to the Kazees stationed in the interior parts of the country.

III. First.—The Kazees stationed in the cities, towns, or pergunnahs in the three provinces shall not be removable from their offices, excepting for incapacity or misconduct in the discharge of their public duty, or acts of profligacy in their private conduct. The Kazees so stationed are to use a circular seal one inch and a half in diameter, on which shall be inserted the designation of their office, and their name in the Persian language as follows:—"The seal of the Kazees of the city (town, pergunnah or pergunnahs) of (name of the Kazee)."

Rule in the preceding clause not to preclude the Governor-General in Council from abolishing the office of Kazee at any place where he may deem the continuance of such an officer unnecessary.

Second.—The rule contained in the preceding clause is not to be construed to preclude the Governor-General in Council from abolishing the office of Kazee at any place where, from the number of Kazees stationed in the district, or other cause, the continuance of such an officer may appear to him unnecessary.

IV.—When the office of Kazee in any pergunnah,

* This expression is used as it is adopted in Regulation XXXIX of 1793, but it is not technically correct.

city, or town, shall become vacant, the Judge of the zillah or city court within whose jurisdiction the place may be situated is immediately to report the vacancy to the Governor-General in Council, and recommend such person as may appear to him best qualified for the succession from his character and legal knowledge. The name of the person so recommended is to be communicated to the Head Kazee, who, if he shall deem him unqualified for the office, either from want of legal knowledge, or the badness of his private character, is to report the same in writing to the Governor-General in Council, who reserves to himself the power of appointing such person to the office or not, or of conferring it upon any other person, according as may appear to him proper. If there shall appear to the Head Kazee no objection to the appointment of the person who may be so recommended, he is to report accordingly to the Governor-General in Council. The person who may be appointed to the office shall be furnished with a sunnud of appointment under the official seal of the Head Kazee, in which the date of his appointment is to be specified.

Vacancies in the office of Kazee in the interior parts of the country how to be supplied.

V.—The office of Kazee is declared not to be hereditary.

Office of Kazee declared not hereditary.

VI. First.—The zillah and city courts, and the provincial courts of appeal, are to report to the Governor-General in Council every instance in which it may appear to them that the Kazee of any pergunnah, city, or town, within their respective jurisdictions, is incapable, or in which it may be proved to their satisfaction that he has been guilty of negligence or misconduct in the discharge of his public duty, or of acts of profligacy in his private conduct.

Courts of Judicature to report incapacity or misconduct in the Mofussil Kazees to the Governor General in Council.

Second.—It shall likewise be the duty of the Head Kazee to report to the Governor-General in Council, in writing, every instance in which it may appear to him that the Kazee of any city, town, or pergunnah is incapable, or in which any such Kazee may have been guilty of misconduct in the discharge of his public duty, or acts of profligacy in his private conduct.

Similar reports to be made by the Head Kazees.

VII.—The Head Kazee and the Kazees stationed in the cities, pergunnahs, and towns are to keep copies of all deeds, and law or other papers, which they may draw up, or attest, and are to affix thereto their seals and signatures. They are likewise to keep a list of all such papers, and on the event of their death, resignation, or removal, the list and papers are to be delivered complete to their successors.

Records to be kept by the Head Kazee and the Kazees stationed in the interior parts of the country, which are to be delivered complete to their successors.

VIII.—The Kazees stationed in the cities, towns, and pergunnahs are not to exact any fees for drawing up or attesting papers, or for the celebration of marriages, or the performance of any religious duties or ceremonies which it has been customary for them to perform, excepting such as the parties concerned may voluntarily agree to pay, as has been hitherto the practice.

Rules regarding the fees of the Kazees.

IX.—Upon the receipt of this regulation, the Judges of the zillahs and cities are to transmit to the Governor-General in Council the names of the places in their respective jurisdictions in which Kazees are stationed, the names of the Kazees, and what number of Kazees they deem sufficient for their respective jurisdictions. The Judges of the zillahs are to fix the residence of the Kazees stationed in the pergunnahs in the most centrical places, in order that distrainers of property and persons whose property may be distrained under Regulation XVII, 1793, may have ready access to them.

Judges of the zillah and city courts to report the number of Kazees stationed in their respective jurisdictions.

Kazees of pergunnahs to be stationed in the centre of the pergunnahs.

X.—The Judges in Bengal and Orissa are to furnish the Kazees stationed in their respective jurisdictions with copies of the Persian and Bengali translates of all Regulations printed and published in the manner directed in Regulation XLI, 1793. The Judges in Behar are to furnish the Kazees stationed in their respective jurisdictions with the Persian translates of all such Regulations.

Judges to furnish the Kazees with copies of the translates of all Regulations published as directed by Regulation XLI, 1793.

XI.—The Kazees stationed in the several zillahs and cities are to be liable to be sued in the Dewanny Adawlut for any undue practices in the discharge of the duties prescribed to them by Regulation XVII, 1793, or any other Regulation printed and published in the manner directed in Regulation XLI, 1793.

Kazees stationed in the zillahs and cities liable to be sued in the cases herein specified.

6. We desire to draw attention to the care with which it was enacted in this Regulation that only persons of character and due qualifications in respect of legal knowledge should be appointed to the office of Kazee. This is a point in regard to which the Committee take the earliest opportunity of saying that they attach the very greatest importance, and they cannot doubt that the comparative failure which has been imputed to the Kazee system under the old Regulations and the more conspicuous failure of the Mahomedan Registrars under the recent Act I (B.C.) of 1876, are largely attributable to disregard of the wise provisions of the legislature in this respect. It appears to the Committee that the rules under which Kazees were selected and appointed under the Regulation gave greater satisfaction to the public and worked with more efficiency than the rules which are now in force for the purpose under the Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act.

7. We draw attention also to the circumstance that under the Regulation of 1793, no fee was demandable on the solemnization of any ceremony. This principle had been established as early as 1772. The tax upon marriages, which varied from three to four rupees, was abolished by the Committee of Circuit in that year as injurious to the increase of population; and at the same time the Kazee's marriage fees which had hitherto been levied at the established rates of two rupees from the principal inhabitants, one rupee eight annas from the middle classes, and one rupee only from the poorer people, were discontinued. It was directed by the Committee of Circuit that the Kazees and Moofties, who were employed at fixed salaries as officers of the courts of justice, should attest all documents and perform all ceremonies of marriages, births, and funerals, without exacting any fees whatever. But the prohibition was declared not to apply to any present or gratification made on the occasion of a marriage or funeral with the entire free-will of the parties concerned. It was, in accordance with the existing rules, enforced under the government of Mr. Hastings, that section 8 of Regulation XXXIX was enacted.

8. Under the old Regulation, however, the registration of the marriage on the part of the Kazee was only a comparatively accidental circumstance, the registration being an exceedingly simple matter, regarding which no rules were prescribed, and the law extended only so far as to prohibit the levy of any fee for the celebration of a marriage. The conditions are very different under the present procedure now established. The present arrangements are devised solely for the sake of registration, and the Committee are of opinion that there is no objection whatever to the moderate and fixed charge of one rupee which is levied as a registration fee under section 9, Act I (B. C.) of 1876. It is in pursuance of the principle of the old Regulation that the present law provides in the next ensuing section that nothing in the Act shall render it illegal for the Mahomedan Registrar to accept a gratuity in addition to the fee if voluntarily offered.

9. For a period of seventy years this Regulation—XXXIX of 1793—was in force. As is well known it was repealed by Act XI of 1864, which is described as "an Act to repeal the laws relating to the offices of Hindoo and Mahomedan law officers, and to the offices of Kazee-ul-Kazaat and of Kazee; and to abolish the former offices." The object of this law was, firstly, to abolish the offices of Hindoo and Mahomedan law officers throughout the country, and, secondly, to dissever the connection of Government with the office of Kazee. Regarding the propriety of the first of these objects, there can be no question: the institution of native law officers to advise the courts had long become effete and obsolete, and no reasonable objection, so far as the Committee are aware, was ever raised in opposition to the proposal. But it is otherwise in reference to the office of Kazee. It is desirable that the exact motives of the legislature in proceeding to dissever all association of Government with the office of Kazee should be on record, and we have therefore included in our report the following extract from the Statement of Objects and Reasons with which the Bill was introduced, and also an extract from the speech of the Hon'ble Mr. Roberts, who was in charge of the Bill, on occasion of his obtaining leave to introduce the Bill into Council.

10. The following is an extract from the "Statement of Objects and Reasons" published on page 95 of the Gazette of India, February 17th, 1864.

PARA. I.—"This Bill originates in a reference from the Government of the North-Western Provinces on the practice of presenting khilluts to Kazees on the occasion of the Eed festivals. It was pointed out that the functions of the Kazee as Registrar of Deeds had been withdrawn practically by the special laws which had been enacted on that subject; that the duty which at one time Kazees performed as a means for the sale of property in execution of decrees of the civil courts had been transferred to other persons specially entertained for that purpose; and that the functions which now remained to Kazees were not of such a nature as to require remuneration from Government"

11. There is no other remark in the Statement of Objects and Reasons that affects the principle of the Bill in regard to the disseverance of Government from the office of Kazee. Mr. Roberts' observations are somewhat fuller, but they do not discuss the subject in any detail. The portion of his speech bearing on the subject is as follows:—

"He hoped he had succeeded in showing that Kazees were no longer required as exponents of Mahomedan law. Then, as regarded the duty of preparing and attesting deeds of transfer, and other law papers, although Kazees were occasionally employed by the public as notaries for this purpose, they had been, to a great extent, superseded by the regular Registrars of Deeds, who were appointed under separate enactments for the registry of deeds. The attestation of a deed by a Kazee was received quantum valeat in our courts: but the same force did not attach to it as to the attestation of a Registrar of Deeds. It now remained for him to explain that they had long ceased to be employed in superintending the sale of distrained property, or in paying pensions and allowances. These duties had been transferred to regularly constituted and salaried servants of the Government, which Kazees had never been. A few Kazees might have received small salaries, and there were believed to be a few endowments in the Madras and Bombay Presidencies: but the majority of Kazees had been remunerated for any services they might have performed for the State, by khilluts, or annual presents in the shape of money, or shawls, which were generally bestowed on the Bengal side at the Eed festival. For their services as public notaries, or for their attendance at marriages, &c., they were remunerated by the persons who employed them. Nor must it be supposed that the Kazees recognized by Government and appointed under the Regulations were the only Kazees in the country. For one Kazee appointed by Government there were probably ten self-constituted Kazees who were acceptable to, and recognized and employed by, the Mahomedan community This circumstance of itself showed that the time had arrived for discontinuing any interference on the part of Government with the appointment of Kazee, and for allowing perfect freedom of action in the matter to the Mahomedan community, subject only to a reference in case of dispute to a court of justice. Kazees, whether those who had heretofore been appointed by Government, or those who had established themselves as Kazees to the satisfaction of the community to which they belonged, would be free to discharge such duties as had heretofore been performed by them and were prescribed by the Mahomedan law. All that it was proposed to do was to repeal the existing laws in our statute book regarding the office of Kazee, and to declare that Government would not henceforth make any fresh appointment to that office."

Quoted from pages 571-572 of Supplements to Calcutta Gazettes for the year 1863.

12. It will be observed that there is no allusion, either in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, or in Mr. Roberts' remarks, to any registration of Mahomedan marriages.

13. Leave was granted to Mr. Roberts in the usual way to introduce the Bill, and on the 10th February 1864 he introduced it into Council and moved that it be referred to a Select Committee. On that occasion, however, opposition was offered by the only Mahomedan gentleman in the Council, His Highness the Nawab of Rampore; and it is instructive to observe that the objection taken was on the very point of the absence of any provision for the due registration of marriage. We reproduce an extract from the speech then made by the Nawab as follows:—

See page 40, Supplement to the Gazette of India, 17th February 1864.

"His Highness the Nawab of Rampore said that the Bill contained two distinct propositions, it proposed first to abolish the office of Kazee-ul-Kazaat and Hindoo law officer, and second to dissever the connection of Government with town and pergunnah Kazees. To the first he saw no objection, but in regard to the second he would observe that the appointment of Kazee was primarily instituted for the general welfare of the people, and to prevent disputes regarding the reality or otherwise of marriages, the amount of marriage portions and questions of succession and inheritance, and it was evident that the absence of all registry would not only give rise to such disputes, but would cause the courts to be flooded with suits regarding them, and would thus protract litigation and uselessly take up the time of the Judges. He would therefore propose that, as was now (some few towns excepted) the practice, Government should not remunerate Kazees who performed their duties in virtue of the authority granted to them by Government; but that, on the other hand, Government should not dissever its connection with the Kazees, but should frame rules for them and for their control as in the case of pleaders and ameens. Their duties would consist in registering every marriage and forwarding monthly copies thereof to the district court."

14. To this objection Mr. Roberts replied that—

"No intention whatever was entertained to interfere with the duties of Kazees as Kazees. There were already thousands of Kazees who were self-constituted and were elected by the people who employed them without the intervention of Government, and who never had any connection with it. The object of the Bill was merely to enable Government to withdraw from the exercise of the privilege of appointing Kazees."

15. There was no further discussion, and the Bill was referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Messrs. Harington, Maine, Ellis, and Roberts, His Highness the Nawab of Rampore and Mr. Anderson, and on the 9th March the report of the Select Committee was presented to the Council. It was accepted in silence, and on the 16th March 1864 the Bill was passed.

16. There is no doubt that this Act, as far as it relates to Kazees, was at the time, and has ever since been, an unpopular measure in Bengal. Our colleague, Nawab Abdool Luteef, who has probably given more consideration to the subjects on which this Committee is now required to report than any other person, was always strongly opposed to the measure. When the proposal to introduce the Bill was under the consideration of the Government of India, the then Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal—Sir John Peter Grant—asked for our colleague's opinion as to the probable consequences that would ensue in Mahomedan society if the Bill were to become law. The Moulvie recommended that the Kazees should be continued in their posts only for the purpose of registering Mahomedan marriages, which were contracts of a purely civil nature. This suggestion, it is understood, was approved by Sir John Grant and was urged upon the Government of India, but the Legislature, as we have seen, decided otherwise. There can be little doubt that the reason of their doing so was that the importance of registering Mahomedan marriages was not at that time acknowledged. In the Lower Provinces of Bengal, however, the feeling was strong that such registration was really necessary, and it found expression in the Local Council as early as the 16th December 1865. A distinguished servant of the Government—the late Syud Azimudeen Hussen—was at that time a Member of the Bengal Legislative Council, and he then moved for and obtained leave to bring in a Bill to provide for the registration of Mahomedan marriages. He declared that among all classes of Her Majesty's subjects the Mahomedans stood most in need of a law for the registration of their marriages.

See page 70, vol. II of the Proceeding of the Bengal Legislative Council from 1865 to 1867.

"Perjury was so rife in this country that, unless a trustworthy record of marriages was preserved, the result would be a total disorganization of society and loss of domestic happiness.

"Cases in which the legality of marriage, the legitimacy of offspring, or the amount of dower were subjects of dispute, frequently occurred, and the litigants produced evidence of equal force and character to establish their respective points. In cases of this description the Judge generally felt at a loss which way to decide. For, although he knew for certain that one of the parties was in the wrong, yet in the absence of documentary evidence it became a most difficult task to arrive at a right conclusion.

"The Bill which it was now proposed to introduce would effectually remove every obstacle to the course of justice, and furnish a record worthy of reliance, while the fees to be paid by the parties would be found sufficient to maintain the establishment requisite for the purposes of registration."

18. Syud Azimudeen's Bill was, however, very incompletely drafted, and it contemplated the compulsory registration of all Mahomedan marriages. Opposition to it was raised outside the Council, and on the 23rd December 1865 the proceedings record that "Syud Azimudeen, who had a notice on the paper to move that the Bill to provide for the registration of Mahomedan marriages be read in Council, asked leave to postpone the reading of the Bill, as in its present form it fell short of the object in view." Inside the Council also Mr. F. R. Cockerell somewhat sharply criticised the provisions of the proposed Bill, but mainly on the ground that it "might lead to direct strife with the general registration law passed by the Imperial Council." After a very brief discussion, the Bill was withdrawn and was never again introduced.

19. Partly, no doubt, in consequence of this untimely and somewhat mysterious disappearance of Syud Azimudeen's attempt at legislation, and partly, perhaps, in consequence of the absence of any Mahomedan gentleman in Council, it so happened that it was several years before the subject was again discussed in the Legislative Chamber.

20. But in the meantime the want which was anticipated by Sir John Grant and his advisers had begun to be realized in practice. The question had been judicially tried, and it had been settled that there could be no legal Kazee according to the Mahomedan law, unless the officer were appointed by the Sultan or Ruling power. Therefore the effect of the passing of the law of 1864 was practically to do away with the Mahomedan functionary altogether. No person could be appointed by the

See page 206, vol. VII, Proceedings of Bengal Legislative Council, 1872, speech made by the Hon'ble Mr Dampier

Mahomedan community whose appointment would be valid under the Mahomedan law. The absence of any system of registration of marriages had already made itself seriously felt. It was noticed that offences against marriages were increasing amongst the Mahomedans, especially those of the lower classes. Many charges were preferred, but as a general rule the complainants failed to obtain redress from the courts. On analysing the reasons of this condition of affairs, it was found that one great moving cause was the absence of any functionary to take the place of the old Kazee as regards Mahomedan marriages. No recognised authority acceptable to the community concerned was competent authoritatively to attest marriages and similar contracts Since the abolition of Kazees, marriages were performed in the presence of casual witnesses only; and the proof of the marriage depended on the evidence of such witnesses only. Therefore when these cases were brought, and the court insisted, as our courts are bound to do, on legal proof of the marriage, none was forthcoming which satisfied it. The testimony of witnesses was either not forthcoming, or was met by counter-evidence which threw doubt on it. And the same difficulty was found to arise in regard to divorces. The general difficulty was discussed by our colleague Nawab Abdool Luteef at a meeting of the Bengal Social Science Association, held at the Town Hall on the 19th January 1869, in language which appears to us to place the subject in a clear light, as follows:—

"As far as the higher and a portion of the middle classes are concerned, the want of a Kazee is not felt at all, as in marriages of these people almost invariably a Kabeennamah, or Deed of Dower, is drawn out and executed by the husband in favour of the wife: and the friends of the latter take care to have it duly registered by the ordinary Registrars of Assurances But amongst the lower classes, and a part of the middle class of Mahomedans, where a Deed of Dower is not, as a rule, written out and executed at the time of marriage, there remains no record whatever of the contracting of the marriage, the date, the amount of dower, and so forth. In former times, the parties to all such marriages, of their own free will, and at their own expense, had their marriages registered in the Kazee's registers, and these registers used to be annually filed in the courts of the Zillah Judges, and there preserved. And whenever disputes occurred amongst the contracting parties themselves, or amongst their children or heirs, and to the fact or date of marriage, or the amount of dower, a reference to those registers carefully kept in the Judge's court, even after the lapse of years, was sure to settle the point in question. Since the abolition of the post of Kazee, however, the poorer classes have been put to much inconvenience from their being deprived of the only means whereby a record might be kept of their marriages, and a great deal of disorganization has in consequence taken place amongst them. It would take me long to specify the hardships of large numbers of the population of those classes, which can scarcely help themselves for want of intelligence and wealth, but whose happiness should be the peculiar care of their betters and of the Government. Great immorality and domestic misery is the consequence, as well as some litigation, which would be greater but for the means of the parties."

21. The unsatisfactory character of the present state of things being thus forced upon, and fully recognized by Government, it was resolved to remedy the evil by legislation, and with this object in view a Bill was at last introduced into the Bengal Council by the Hon'ble Mr. Dampier on the 29th November 1873 "to provide for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces." The Bill was read in Council and referred to a Select Committee. But at this time the famine intervened; all legislative work was suspended, and the report of the Select Committee was not submitted till the 2nd January 1875. The Bill was then fully discussed in Council. It is not necessary, and it is not our intention in this report, to follow the discussions that took place. Although the Hon'ble Mr. Dampier was in charge of the Bill, the formation of the Bill during its early stages, and especially in its passage through the Select Committee, was largely due to the special influence, knowledge, and application brought to bear on the subject by our colleague Nawab Abdool Luteef, and when his term of office in the Council expired in February 1875, he was succeeded by another of our colleagues, Nawab Syud Asgur Ali Bahadoor, C.S.I., who also took an active part in the proceedings of the Legislature. Both the Sunnee and Sheea communities were therefore represented in Council during the period that this Bill was under deliberation. The Bill was eventually passed in the Lieutenant-Governor's Council on the 23rd November 1875, and received the Governor-General's assent on the 11th January 1876. It has become law as Act I (B.C.) of 1876.

22. Upon the 12th November 1875 the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Richard Temple, recorded a Minute on the subject of this Act. The Act, he explained, "provides a cheap, simple, and easy machinery whereby Mahomedans may, if they please, register their marriages and divorces. Such registration is to be purely voluntary. If a man chooses to register, he has the benefit of the facility of proof which such registration affords, otherwise no special validity is accorded to registered marriages which they would not otherwise have. On the other hand, if a man does not choose to register, the validity of the marriage is in no wise affected by the absence of registration. If a man sees fit to register, he must follow the prescribed form of entries; he must pay the prescribed fees. If he does not see any use in this, or if he otherwise objects, then he can abstain from registration, and he is not by such abstinence subjected to any sort of disability. But the forms and all the concomitants of the registration are so devised as to avoid even the semblance of interfering with religious rites and usages, and there is an express clause to the effect that nothing in this Act shall be construed to affect the religion or religious rites and usages of any of Her Majesty's subjects in India." Sir Richard Temple then continues in his Minute:—

"3. The reasons why a measure of this kind is needed are in this wise. There is in many parts of these provinces, a large Mahomedan population following rural and agricultural pursuits, occupying a lowly social status, and comparatively destitute of anything like a religious organization. Some consequences (out of many) arising from this state of things are laxity in the solemnization of marriages, difficulty in proving their compacts, general looseness of the marriage tie, disputes and feuds regarding the possession of women, and much social depravity.

"4. Abundant demonstration of all this is afforded, not only by common repute and notorious facts, but by the police annals and by the records of the courts, especially on the criminal side It is believed that this measure, by facilitating registration, will gradually apply a remedy which will become more and more effectual year by year. Thus something may, we hope, be done for the amelioration of the social condition of an industrious population."

23. Unfortunately these hopes have not been fulfilled. The law has now been in force for five years, a period sufficiently long to judge of its operation, and it is a matter of notoriety that it has not succeeded according to the sanguine expectation of its authors and promoters. The total Mahomedan population of the districts and parts of districts to which the Act has been extended is 11,215,071; yet in the past year, 1879-80, the total number of marriages registered among this population was only 7,137. In fifty-eight offices open less than 50 ceremonies were registered; in nineteen offices less than 10 were registered; and three offices did not register a single ceremony of any sort or kind. It appears unnecessary for us to furnish any further evidence in proof of our statement, but we may be allowed to quote from the Resolution of Government, by which our Committee is appointed, as giving a brief summary of the results of the working of the present law:—

Government Resolution, Judicial, dated 17th September 1880.

"The following statement shows the working of Act I (B C.) of 1876 since it came into operation since February 1876:—

Year.	Number of districts in which the Act was in force.	Number of offices open on the 31st March	Number of marriages registered	Number of divorces registered other than khola divorces.	Number of khola divorces registered	Total of all ceremonies registered
1876-77	14	77	2,555	402	161	3,118
1877-78	14	103	7,391	1,404	595	9,390
1878-79	14	103	8,161	1,705	771	10,637
1879-80	14	107	7,137	2,097	623	9,857

"2. It appears from this statement that, although during the past year there was an increase of four in the number of offices, the number of marriages registered was less by 1,024 and the number of divorces registered greater by only 244 than the corresponding numbers in the previous year. In only three districts,—Chittagong, Rungpore, and Dinagepore,—was recourse had to the Act to any appreciable extent, these three districts accounting for 6,361 out of the total of 9,857 registrations. In each of the three districts of Nuddea, Jessore, and Pubna the total number of registrations was less than a hundred, and in each of the remaining eight districts less than one thousand ceremonies were registered. The Inspector-General's report shows that even in those districts in which recourse is not unfrequently had to the marriage registrar, there are wide differences between the different offices, the number of registrations varying with the fashion of the neighbourhood and the popularity of the registrar. "It is the universal opinion," Mr. Bourdillon states, "that the people in general regard the provisions of the Act with apathy. Local zemindars and the village mollahs offer a passive resistance to the progress of the law. Mahomedans of good position never employ it, and it is reported that even the poor country folk think so little of its advantages that, though they will indolently consent to registration, when sought out by the marriage registrar, they will not take any steps to reach him, or to avail themselves of the advantages offered by the legislature."

24. A decided opinion was expressed by the Lieutenant-Governor in this Resolution that the Act had not hitherto proved a success, and His Honor declared himself satisfied that, if the Mahomedan Marriage Act were continued to be worked under the present rules and procedure, it would never be of any practical benefit to any large part of the Mahomedan community, or in any considerable tract of country; at the same time he believed that by making the procedure less cumbersome and more in accordance with the habits of the people, and by taking more care in the selection of qualified persons under the Act, the people would gradually be brought to avail themselves of the advantages of registration. On all hands it was admitted that it would be a great advantage, both to the Mussulman community and to the general public, if all, or even only a large proportion, of Mahomedan marriages and divorces were registered.

25. The Lieutenant-Governor was then pleased to appoint the present Committee in order to consider all these questions, to point out the defects in the present law and rules, and, if possible, to suggest a remedy which might ensure some improvement in registration.

26. It is with great regret that the Committee have now to report that after much deliberation and careful consideration in detail of the provisions of the law and rules, they are not unanimous in the recommendations they are about to make to Government. Nawab Abdool Luteef is of opinion that the failure of the operations under Act I (B.C.) of 1876 is not due to any defect in the law itself, but to the cumbrous and inappropriate character of the rules which have been enforced under the provisions of the Act. This view has always been held by the Nawab, and the first set of rules promulgated in March 1876 was modified on receipt of a representation submitted by him to Government. The revised rules were published in August 1876, but these rules are also considered by him to be defective in most important respects. On the 8th May last, a Memorandum was addressed by the Nawab to Government, in which it was held that "the purposes of the Act have been frustrated by the very rules which have been laid down for enforcing them." In particular, objection was taken to section 3 of the rules which relates to the appointment of registrars. This rule gives a preference to ex-Kazees, pensioners, being Mahomedans, and also sanctions the appointment of Sub-Registrars of Assurances if Mahomedans. In regard to this the Nawab wrote as follows:—

"It was of the utmost consequence that Mahomedan Marriage Registrars should be carefully selected, and that they should possess some knowledge of the Mahomedan law of marriage and divorce. A Registrar of Assurances, a Government pensioner, although a good Mahomedan, need not necessarily possess such knowledge. As in every Mahomedan marriage a person must be in attendance to officiate as priest to read the marriage service, it is obvious that the best way of facilitating registration of marriages would be to appoint only such persons as registrars as might be called in, if necessary, to officiate as priests, simultaneously effecting registration of the marriages gone through before them. Combining in their own persons such double functions, their presence at marriages, instead of being considered as intrusion, would be eagerly sought after. In order that their presence might be thus desired, the Marriage Registrars should be not only men versed in sacred learning, but also possessed of high moral character and social status. If such men cannot be found in the district, they ought to be procured from outside. Such was the case when Government used to appoint Kazees. Indeed, the provision in rule 3, that registrars, if non-residents, should be willing to reside within the limits of their jurisdictions, was added in order to meet my recommendation that in some cases it might be necessary to appoint non-residents as registrars."

"The rule, however, excepting this amendment, remains just as it did before. The amendment itself, I am afraid, has not been acted upon, at least in the spirit that I intended. Matters have turned out just as I anticipated. Men have been appointed who have failed to exercise any influence among the village people for the purpose of inducing them to go to them for the registration of their marriages and divorces, and they have accordingly stayed away.

"It is, I submit, very necessary, in the light of the experience which we have gained, that rule 3 should be amended. A Government pensioner, even if a Mahomedan, would not necessarily be in a position to discharge the functions of officiating priest and registrar at Mahomedan marriages; and his old age would render it difficult for him in many cases to attend marriages, whereby alone registration is effected in the most satisfactory way, and risks of fraud by false personation and other means very much avoided. Kazees, again, have been so long abolished, that an ex-Kazee is very rarely obtainable, and, even if available, his old extortionate instincts and his extreme age may in many cases disqualify him for the full and effective discharge of his duties. Mahomedan Registrars of Assurances, on the other hand (if otherwise qualified), are already overburdened with work and would be very reluctant to attend marriages from house to house, even if it were possible for them to make time to go out on such journeys not unfrequently at great distances from their settled places of business. The ordinary registration work would be very much retarded if the dual registrar took upon himself a few such journeys every month. Were not the ordinary Registrars of Assurances open to these objections, their simultaneous appointment as Mahomedan Marriage Registrars might obviate one possible obstacle to the success of the Act, namely, the clashing of the interests of rival registrars. I have heard of some instances in which the ordinary rural Sub-Registrars of Assurances have discouraged registration under Act I (B.C.) of 1876, as calculated to take away from their own earnings. I think it is also to be regretted that the Special Sub-Registrars in the Eastern Districts of Bengal are exclusively Hindoos. The District Registrars are too much occupied with other and higher duties, and Registration Department work is almost entirely left in the hands of the Special Sub-Registrars. Such being the case, it is quite natural that so much interest would not, and could not, be taken in the working of the Act as would be the case if Mahomedan officers were concerned in the work of supervision. The selection and nomination of Marriage Registrars also does probably remain much in the hands of Hindoo Special Sub-Registrars, who could not be fair judges in the matter of the qualifications of candidates."

Objection was also taken by the Nawab to the arrangements for securing the attendance of Mahomedan Registrars at marriages, and to the fact that the language in which the registers were kept was often unintelligible to the parties concerned. In the opinion of the Nawab the principle of the present Act is sound, and to prove this he points to its success in Chittagong and Rungpore. He apprehends that the failure of the Act in other places is chiefly due to proper persons not being appointed; appointments of this nature again being due to the defective state of the rules. The majority of the Committee are, however, of opinion that the principle of the Act is radically defective; and while they agree generally in the Nawab's criticism of the subsidiary rules, they think that the wishes of Government to improve and popularize Mahomedan registration cannot be met by any mere modification of procedure under the present Act.

27. The question of compulsory registration was discussed on an early occasion at the meetings of our Committee, and it was pointed out that under a permissive system, however well devised, it was absolutely impossible to provide for the registration of all marriages. It was considered whether it would be possible to make the neglect or omission to register on the part of the contracting parties an offence punishable by the Magistrate. The Committee were, however, of opinion that no such proposal could be enforced. It would provoke the most lively opposition from all quarters, and, if actually sanctioned by law, would prove in practice no more than a dead letter. It is impossible to imagine such a law in operation without oppression and injustice. It was then suggested, in accordance with Mr. D. R. Lyall's proposal, that the criminal courts should take cognizance only of registered marriages and divorces. But it was felt that any proposal to impose any legal disabilities on the contracting parties for their neglect to register would involve no inconsiderable measure of harshness and injustice; and on the objection being taken by Nawabs Abdool Luteef and Asgur Ali that this arrangement would involve an interference with the Mahomedan religion, the proposal was dropped. It was then proposed, and there was an inclination in the Committee to press this proposal, that it should be rendered obligatory not on the contracting parties, but on the person who might preside at the marriage, whether known as Kazee, Mujtahid, or under any other name, to effect registration. An objection was, however, taken to this proposal also, on the ground of interference with the Mahomedan religion, and on this consideration the majority of the Committee have agreed with great reluctance to surrender for the present all idea of compulsory registration on any basis.

28. The Committee have, since these discussions, been favoured by a Mahomedan gentleman (who wrote at the request of the President) with a memorandum urging strongly the necessity of compulsory registration, and the question has therefore again come under consideration. The writer, although he is a Mahomedan, goes further in his proposal than Mr. Lyall. He does not say that a penalty should be imposed for non-registration, but he suggests "that the Legislature should declare that when parties desire to have the factum of a marriage established, they should be bound to show it was registered at the time." In other words, it is proposed that no court in the country, whether civil or criminal, should take cognizance of a marriage or divorce unless registration at the time of the marriage or divorce be proved. The writer continues:—

"The Legislature requires the registration of other legal acts such as wuqfs, hibas, &c. It does not declare that the person who makes a wuqf in not registering it should be liable to a penalty, but it declares that if any person wants to have its validity established in court or to derive any benefit under it, he should be bound to prove that he complied with the requirements of the statute law respecting registration as a means of testing the bona fides of the donor and the beneficiaries. Those who urge upon Government the introduction of a law making registration of marriages and divorces compulsory, require nothing more from the Legislature than this—that marriages and divorces which under the Mahomedan law are purely civil transactions, should be placed on the same footing as other legal acts. They desire that the same principles should be applied to test the bona fides of the contracting parties as in other cases."

29. Inclined, however, as several members of this Committee are to identify themselves with a compulsory system, they cannot say that they are able to accept the above reasoning as a valid argument in its support. It is true that marriage according to Mahomedan law is a civil transaction, but it appears to us that marriage stands, and always must stand, so long as natural affections exist, on altogether a different footing from other civil contracts, such as deeds, mortgages, or leases. It may be well and good, in order to ensure the bona fides of the transaction, to enact that an unregistered perpetual lease of land shall not be accepted as evidence, but it would be a measure exceedingly harsh and unjust and inexpedient in the last degree to treat marriage in a similar category and to enact that marriage if left unregistered should be unrecognized by the courts. The arguments above quoted may, or may not, be applicable to the registration of dower, but they are certainly inappropriate to the registration of marriage. Our moral sense condemns a proposal which attaches to mere carelessness or forgetfulness to register a marriage consequences far more serious and injurious in their effect than any fine or penalty which, if a penalty were legal, would be imposed by a criminal court. Legislation in this direction would indeed be calculated to encourage that immorality which it is our first object to discountenance by means of registration. Thousands of persons by an honest neglect of registration would be plunged in misery by finding that their marriages were legally invalid, while no inconsiderable number of persons, by a dishonest neglect would be able to swindle and cheat in the most heartless manner, the victims of their villany being deprived of the opportunity of redress. And it is not only the contracting parties that would suffer, but also their innocent offspring. All objections on the score of interference with the Mahomedan religion apart, we are unanimously of opinion, that no scheme for compulsory registration can be supported by arguments which appear to involve results so subversive of social order and happiness.

30. The Committee are also constrained to admit that the preponderance of Mahomedan opinion appears to be against any system of compulsory registration,* and we observe that the Lieutenant-Governor in the Resolution by which this Committee is appointed declares himself "convinced that it would be both inexpedient and wrong to excite the widespread opposition that would result from making registration compulsory on parties contracting and severing marriages." We do not therefore recommend any compulsory scheme of registration for the approval of Government.

31. It remains only to devise the best possible scheme of registration upon a voluntary basis; and after considering the present system and the causes of its failure, it appears to the majority of the Committee (the inherent defects of an optional system of registration being granted) that the undoubted failure of the operations under the present system is primarily due to the provisions of the law which impose the responsibility of reporting the marriage at the office of the Mahomedan Registrar upon the contracting parties.

* Moulvie Syud Ameer Hossein is inclined to question this statement.

32. This provision appears to us to rest upon an entirely wrong principle. The number of Mahomedan Registrars is necessarily few, and their offices are far between. It is the function of the Mahomedan Registrar to wait in his office, at the head-quarters of a thana or sub-division, until applicants apply to him for registration. Naturally there are very few applications. Forgetfulness or ignorance of the law would in itself account for a great majority of cases. In other instances the trouble of trudging a few miles to the Registrar's office is a sufficient reason for non-registration. Under these circumstances, the normal state of things is represented in those districts where the number of registrations may be counted by tens, or at most hundreds, in the twelve-month. In other districts, like Chittagong and Rungpore, where the number of registrations is less unsatisfactory, the comparative success attained is due to exceptional and special causes. The Mahomedan Registrars are, as a rule, better chosen, and by their personal influence induce the Mollahs and Khoondkars of the interior, who actually preside at the marriages, to send the contracting parties to their office for registration; or it may be that in certain areas the impression has obtained among the people that registration under the Act is compulsory, and in such cases the practice of registration would continue long after the belief which gave rise to it had ceased to exist. But these are all exceptional causes of local or temporary application, and the rule is, as stated, that the contracting parties are not in the habit of going, and do not like to proceed to the office of the Mahomedan Registrar for registration. It appears to the majority of the Committee that this result is no more than was to have been expected from the antecedent probabilities of the case. An arrangement under which it is left optional to the contracting parties to register, and under which the responsibility of registration is exclusively imposed on the contracting parties, will never be found to work well in practice. It were in every way preferable to impose this duty, as is done in other countries, on the official in whose presence the marriage is celebrated.

33. The leading feature of our present proposals then is, that in any scheme for the improvement of registration of Mahomedan marriages, the official in whose presence the marriage is celebrated should be looked to directly for the necessary registration.

34. In order to carry out this principle we have been obliged to recur largely to a revival of the old procedure under the Regulation of 1793, and to an acceptation of the more modern arrangements for the appointment of Naib Kazees as enacted in the recent Kazees Act, XII of 1880, passed by the Indian Council. We recommend the re-appointment of a Kazee-ul-Kazaat; of town, and pergunah, or thana Kazees, however they may be called; and at the same time as an essential arrangement we recommend the appointment of Naib Kazees, before whom it is expected that the great bulk of marriages among the people will eventually be solemnised.

35. As the arrangements we propose will, if accepted, necessarily involve fresh legislation, we have, for convenience of reference, annexed to this report, the draft of an Act we would recommend for the consideration of Government, to replace the present law, Act I (B.C.) of 1876. Although our draft is prepared upon the lines of the present law, the merits of which we are glad to acknowledge in many particulars, in all the essential points relating to the procedure for registration of marriages, it is a new Act, incorporating what appears to us valuable and appropriate, both from the Kazee's Regulation XXXIX of 1793 and from the Kazees Act, XII of 1880.

36. Our future remarks will follow as far as may be the order of our suggestions as contained in the draft Act.

37. The re-appointment of a Kazee-ul-Kazaat, or Head Kazee in Calcutta, who will exercise direct supervision and control over the operations of the Act in the town of Calcutta, and a general superintendence over the working of the Act in all parts of Bengal, will be a measure likely to afford great satisfaction to the Mahomedan community. We have declared the Kazee-ul-Kazaat to be the final appellate authority in regard to all refusals to register, and have imposed upon him a large share of the responsibility in selecting fit and competent persons as Kazees throughout the province.

38. We have proposed that the Kazee-ul-Kazaat should nominate, subject to such rules as the Lieutenant-Governor may prescribe, and that the Lieutenant-Governor should appoint, persons to the office of Kazee. In this respect the Head Kazee will take what is practically the present position occupied by the Inspector-General of Registration. The rules should, we think, prescribe that, in all cases, applications for the appointment of Kazee should be addressed to the District Registrar or Magistrate; that, when not so addressed, they should be remitted to the Registrar for consideration, and that the recommendation of the Registrar should always be communicated to the Kazee ul-Kazaat, and by him transmitted to Government. The form of application may well remain, mutatis mutandis, as in clause 2 of the present rules. Considering the very great importance that attaches to the appointment of properly qualified persons as Kazees, we think it expedient that the responsibility of nomination should finally rest with a Mahomedan of the high status and position of Head Kazee, who, besides possessing special means of information, will be largely amenable to the healthy influence of the public opinion of his co-religionists. This principle was recognized in the Kazees Regulation of 1793, and though not fully acted upon should now, we think, be established. There is no doubt that the present system of exclusive nomination by the officers of the Registration Department has proved an unwelcome and unpopular innovation. It has been tried and failed, and its failure is in no small measure associated with the general failure of the operations under the present Act.

39. Kazees would thus under our proposed procedure be gradually appointed to towns and cities and to the head-quarters of thanas, or perhaps of sub-divisions, as it might be considered by the executive Government that their appointment was necessary. We are inclined to think that it would be inadvisable to extend the Act, otherwise than very slowly; and that it is doubtful whether it would be wise at first at all events to extend it even so far as to all the localities in which Act I (B.C.) of 1876 is in force. The necessity of appointing fit and proper persons as Kazees must override all other considerations, and unless the Act is extended with great caution, and slowly, there will always be a risk of the importance of this question being subordinated to administrative considerations. It is feared that all the Mahomedan Registrars under the present law are by no means fit to be vested with the responsibilities and powers we would impose on Kazees under the proposed arrangements.

40. We have deliberately rejected the term "Mahomedan Registrar" and employed that of "Kazee" in its place. The objections that were urged against the use of the word Kazee when Act I (B.C.) of 1876 was passed, have lost their significance, now that the word has been sanctioned by the Indian Legislature in the Kazees Act, XII of 1880. We have found that the introduction of this term, "Kazee," meets with almost universal approval, and we have no doubt that that the mere use of the word will largely tend to popularise registration in the mofussil. The expression has been argued against by the gentleman from whom we have already quoted in this report, on the ground that it will mislead popular ideas, and that whereas in our draft Bill we specially exclude the exercise of judicial functions from the Kazee, the people at large will never be able to dissociate the idea of a Kazee from the Judge. The Committee are, however, unanimously of opinion that there is no ground for any apprehension of this nature. It is a fact that from long usage in India the term Kazee has been dissociated from any idea of the exercise of judicial functions, and the language of the Kazees Act, which we follow in this particular, appears to us not only commendable in itself, but open to no misconstruction from any class of the community.

41. It is evident that the Kazees who may be appointed will, by themselves, be unable to solemnise and register more than an infinitesimal fraction of the Mahomedan marriages that may take place within the territorial limits to which the Act may be extended. We have therefore in accordance with the policy of the Kazees Act, XII of 1880, provided for the appointment of Naib Kazees to be appointed by the Kazees, within whose jurisdiction they will act. The success of the arrangements we propose will depend very much on the judgment and discretion with which these appointments are made, and the amount of supervision and control that may be exercised by the Kazees over their delegated authority. It is intended that the Kazee should appoint as Naib Kazees the most respected and competent Mollahs and Khoondkars within his jurisdiction, to whom the common people would naturally turn for the solemnization of their marriages and other ceremonies; and who would therefore, even if they were not formally appointed, be ordinarily employed on occasion of a marriage. The choice of the Kazee would thus be largely influenced by the choice of the people themselves; he would select only such persons as Naib as had already commended themselves to the community. If such persons were appointed, there can be little doubt that the additional authority their official status would convey would raise their social position and tend to establish them in the public estimation as functionaries whose presence would be considered as absolutely necessary at every marriage, or similar ceremony. We think that these Naib Kazees should certainly be appointed by the Kazee who alone will possess the local knowledge necessary to select proper deputies, and whose direct interest it will be to see that the best men are selected for the post. This principle is laid down in the Kazees Act of 1880, and we entirely concur in it. But we would provide in the rules that every appointment must first be approved by the District Registrar, and should then, after his approval is accorded and before the actual appointment is made, be sanctioned by the Kazee-ul-Kazaat. The same formalities should be attended to in the event of a Naib Kazee being suspended or dismissed from his appointment. Neglect to register on the part of the Naib Kazee would be a proper subject for departmental notice; and if the neglect were repeated, would be a sufficient ground for suspension or dismissal.

42. We have provided for optional registration at the office of the Kazees and Naib Kazees on the part of those whose marriage may have been celebrated in the presence of persons not appointed under the provisions of the Act.

43. In effect the vast majority of Mahomedan marriages in the localities to which the Act may be extended would, we hope, be solemnized in the presence of, and registered by, the Naib Kazees. One rupee would be levied by them for registration in each case and would be retained by them as their lawful remuneration. We propose, however, that 25 per cent. of this fee should be set aside as remuneration for the Kazee to whom the Naib Kazees are subordinate. By this means a direct stimulus will be given to the Kazee to exercise a careful supervision over the doings of his subordinates, and the Kazee will also himself receive that amount of remuneration, without which it is impossible to expect that competent men will ever be found willing to accept the office. In order to ensure a sufficiency of remuneration to the Kazee himself, it will be essential that the area of his jurisdiction should be carefully chosen with reference to the probable number of registrations, and it is to be feared that experience only will enable this difficulty to be satisfactorily met. In the first instance, therefore, it will be advisable that the areas of jurisdiction should be somewhat larger than those placed under the Mahomedan Registrars of the present Act.

44. It is true that under the proposed law it is not compulsory upon the Naib Kazees to register marriages solemnised in their presence—that is to say, if they neglect to register no legal penalty is imposed: but it is anticipated that under the arrangements by which the Kazee will be entitled to a quarter of the fee upon every registration, his self-interest will induce him to exercise a close check over his deputies and so ensure registration in most cases. We are not unreasonably sanguine as to the success likely to attend upon this arrangement; but in default of any compulsory procedure, which, as already stated, we hesitate to recommend to Government, we make the proposal as one which appears to us most nearly calculated to secure the desired object.

45. It has been suggested to us to get rid altogether of the registration fee, and though we are not prepared to support this proposal, it appears to us entitled to consideration. It is no doubt perfectly fair to require a fee; but if registration is to be general, it is obviously advisable that it should be unattended by the levy of any fee or by taxation in any form. We have therefore considered whether we could devise a plan by which it may be possible to secure respectable and competent men as Naib Kazees, and at the same time so arrange that marriage before these officials shall not cost the parties more than marriage before any other person. The problem is, however, a difficult one, and we are not bold enough to hope that it will ever be possible to find persons who will undertake the labour of registration without remuneration. A glance at the form of registers to be kept up will show that this labour must be considerable. No official position, no social status, will compensate the Kazee or Naib Kazee for the trouble and expense to which he must be put in filling up and furnishing copies of the elaborate entries which are considered essential to efficient registration. We are satisfied, therefore, that it will be necessary to specially remunerate these officials for the duties they are required to perform. The proposal that they should be remunerated from the public funds is not one which can properly be discussed by us, and we do not recommend it, although we think that the experiment might advantageously be tried in a single district; it is probable that the expenditure would be small and the measure would undoubtedly be a popular one with all classes concerned. The Committee have, however, not based their proposals on this recommendation. Considering, as we do, that the Kazees and Naib Kazees should certainly be paid, and that the imposition of a small fee on registration is admittedly unobjectionable in principle, we would propose no change in the procedure of the present law in this respect, except in regard to the distribution of the fee for the reasons already explained.

46. In order, however, that the fullest discretion may be reserved to the Executive Government in regard to the levy of fees or otherwise, we have provided that the Lieutenant-Governor shall have power to prescribe rules for regulating the amount of registration fees, if any, to be levied by Kazees and Naib Kazees, but that the amount of such fees shall not in any case exceed one rupee for the registration of any marriage or divorce.

47. We are not able to support any proposal that the Kazee-ul-Kazaat should also be remunerated by any proportion of the fees derived from registration. This high functionary should, we think, receive a fixed salary from Government at such a rate as the Government may be pleased to determine. This would involve a direct expenditure chargeable against the Provincial Revenues, but it appears to us very necessary that it should be incurred in order to secure the efficiency of the central administrative control to which we attach great importance.

48. We accept all the forms of registers as they are prescribed by the present law. It was proposed in Committee that they should be simplified, and the several headings were discussed in detail. In compliance, however, with the opinion of Nawab Abdool Luteef to which, in a matter of this kind, the Committee are fully prepared to defer, we do not wish to recommend any changes. We are, however, unable to accept the Nawab's opinion that in Bengal districts the registers should be kept in two languages, viz. Urdu and Bengali. This arrangement would impose additional labour upon a class of persons who already find the existing arrangements sufficiently irksome, and we think that it will be enough to provide in the rules that the Lieutenant-Governor shall have power to prescribe the language in which the registers should be kept in each district.

49. In any rules that may be framed we would altogether omit any clauses relating to the attendance of Kazees or Naib Kazees at marriages. This should be left entirely as a matter of private arrangement between the parties concerned.

50. The existing arrangements for the registration of divorce we would leave untouched. Applications for registration would be made to the Kazee or Naib Kazee instead of to the Mahomedan Registrar as at present.

51. We have adhered to the provisions of the present law regarding the supervision and control to be exercised by the District Registrar, and have reproduced also the arrangements, whereby monthly copies of the indexes and all the registers, when complete, shall be filed in the office of the District Registrar. It were well, we think, to provide that except in mere formal matters the District Registrar should not be empowered to make over charge of his duties under this Act to the Special Sub-Registrar of the district. The Registration departmental work is generally left in the hands of the Special Sub-Registrars, who are almost exclusively Hindus, and this arrangement works without objection; but it is very undesirable that the control of the operations under the Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act should be placed in the hands of such officers. We have omitted any provision regarding the general supervision and control to be exercised by the Inspector-General of Registration In this respect the place of the Inspector-General is taken by the Kazee-ul-Kazaat. Any orders that the Kazee-ul-Kazaat may pass, and any correspondence between him and the Kazees, should be transmitted through the office of the District Registrar concerned, as is the practice established in regard to correspondence with the Inspector-General of Police in the Police Department. The authority of the Inspector-General of Registration over the District Registrars will of course remain unaffected, and all the necessary statistical returns will continue as at present to be submitted to Government by the Inspector-General of Registration. The annual report of the Inspector-General on the registration of Mahomedan marriages should be kept distinct and separate from his annual report on the registration of deeds and assurances.

52. In regard to the recovery by Government of the cost of registers, stationery, seals, &c., supplied to Kazees and Naib Kazees, we would recommend the adoption of a liberal policy on the first introduction of the new arrangements. The present rule is that the Mahomedan Registrar has to reimburse to Government the cost of all such articles supplied to him, and there is no doubt that the operation of this rule has been felt as a considerable hardship by those against whom it has been enforced. It would tend, we think, greatly to facilitate the introduction of a new system if, in the first instance, all such articles were supplied by Government free of charge. This is now the practice in the case of rural sub-registrars appointed under the Registration Act, and of ministers and others appointed as Marriage Registrars under the Christian Marriage Act. Eventually, as the system was found to work satisfactorily the Kazees and Naib Kazees might be required to pay for such articles at the time they were supplied. But it would jeopardize the success of the new scheme if this rule were enforced at its very inception.

53. We have followed the principle of the present law in enacting that the Kazee-ul-Kazaat, and all Kazees and Naib Kazees shall be public servants, and that their duties under the Act shall be deemed to be public duties.

54. As in the present law so in the draft proposed we have been careful in regard to all the forms and procedure of registration to avoid even the semblance of interference with the religion or the religious rites and usages of any of Her Majesty's subjects in India.

55. In the saving clause with which our draft Bill concludes, we have taken from the Kazees Act of 1880 the provisos that nothing in the Act shall be deemed—

(a) to confer any judicial or administrative powers on any Kazee-ul-Kazaat, Kazee, or Naib Kazee appointed under the Act.

(b) to render the presence of a Kazee or Naib Kazee necessary at the celebration of any marriage or the performance of any rite or ceremony.

56. The remaining provisos are reproduced as they stand from the Act, I (B.C.) of 1876.

57. In other respects it does not appear necessary to add any comment or explanation regarding the provisions of the draft Bill We have thought it premature to submit draft rules prepared under the Bill, but we have indicated in this report the character that in our opinion the rules should take upon all the most important points, and in minor details the existing rules appear to us for the most part open to no objection.

Remarks by Nawab Abdool Luteef.

CONCURRING in the opinion of the other Members of the Committee against the introduction of a compulsory system of registration for Mahomedan marriages and divorces, and rejoicing in the thorough and indignant rejection of the inhuman proposal to refuse all legal recognition to unregistered marriages and divorces, I regret very much that I am compelled, in duty to my own convictions (arrived at after long and continuous study of the subject) to differ from my Colleagues in their proposals to remedy the present unsatisfactory state of affairs.

2. I am glad to observe that the Committee "agree generally" in my "criticism of the subsidiary rules" (paragraph 26), and that in other portions of their report, they dwell upon what I have long pointed out as the weak points in the present rules, namely, the absence of provision to secure the appointment of properly qualified registrars.

3. The difference between us is, as to the remedies to be proposed for an admitted evil. My Colleagues think that amending the rules would not be sufficient, but the Act itself should, in their opinion, be materially altered;—whilst I think that the existing Act would suffice with amended rules.

4. I hope it will be admitted on all hands that strong remedies should never be used in the body politic where milder remedies may prove efficacious; and considering that the Committee agree with me generally in my criticisms on the subsidiary rules, I think it would be nothing but fair to give to the present Act a chance of success, with the amended rules. Such a course would be eminently safe and politic, as avoiding the excitement which any radical change in the law would certainly produce in the Mahomedan community, and as avoiding any fresh expenditure from the public revenues.

5. The present Act (I of 1876) has been only in force for five years. It has been worked, from the very outset, with rules which I have pointed out as most likely to fetter the usefulness and popularity of the Act. Let the Act be worked with better rules for another five years, and then we would be in a position best to judge whether the Act or the rules are defective. For my own part, I am sanguine that with properly amended rules a change for the better would be quite perceptible in the very first year of the new regime.

6. As for the nomination of the Mahomedan Registrars, which is the key to the proper administration of the Act, it ought, in my opinion, to be made by the District Registrar, with special reference to the qualifications insisted upon in the proposed amended rules. In the case of each vacancy, the District Registrar should be called upon to send in three names, with a brief description of the qualifications of the candidates. The Inspector-General of Registration should refer these names to a standing Mixed Committee of European and Mahomedan gentlemen appointed for that purpose by Government, and, as a general rule, the opinion of such a Committee should be final as to the selection to the Mahomedan Registrarship. It may be objected that the Members of such a Committee would not be in a position to judge properly of the merits of the particular candidates; but they would have before them the applications of the candidates, with the remarks of the District Registrar; and in doubtful cases the Members of the Committee could always supplement the information before them by personal enquiries. In the Metropolis are to be found persons from all districts, and through friends and acquaintances, if not from personal knowledge, the Members of the Committee can always investigate doubtful cases. I venture to think that such a Committee acting with cognizance of the reports of the District Registrar would be far more likely to make a better selection than the Pergunnah Kazees and the Kazee-ul-Kazaat, proposed by my Colleagues. I need not add that it is most essential that the actual registering officer should be of the most trustworthy and efficient description available; and I should look with dismay at the prospect of the practical work of registration (the ultimate object of the scheme) being bodily handed over to Naib Kazees, who, ten to one, would be the nominees and the proteges of the Pergunnah Kazees, selected through favouritism, pure and simple, under the distant supervision of a Kazee-ul-Kazaat at Calcutta. Under such a system I am afraid the Pergunnah Kazees would, in many cases, appoint as Naib Kazees the men who would pay them most, without any regard to the necessary qualifications of ability and integrity.

I.

Proceedings of the Committee appointed to report upon the Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces in Bengal.

First Meeting.—Held on Saturday, the 22nd January 1881, at 11 A.M., at the office of the Board of Revenue.

Present:

H. J. S. COTTON, ESQ., President.
NAWAB SYUD ASGUR ALI, DILER JUNG, BAHADOOR, C.S.I.
,, ABDOOL LUTEEF.
THE HO'NBLE SYUD AMEER HOSSEIN.
J. A. BOURDILLON, ESQ.

AFTER sketching briefly the history of the measures adopted from time to time for ensuring the registration of Mahomedan marriages, the President set forth his scheme for reforming the existing defects of the Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act, which was, generally speaking, the same as that which the majority of the Committee has adopted. The scheme was discussed in detail, and the meeting broke up at 1-45 P.M.

II.

Proceedings of the Committee appointed to report on the Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces in Bengal.

Second Meeting.—Held on Saturday, the 29th January 1881, at 11 A.M.

Present: The President and members as before, with the addition of F. F. Handley, Esq., who had, in the mean time, returned from tour.

Nawab Abdool Luteef brought forward his objections to the President's scheme, and advocated the retention of the existing Act I (B.C.) of 1876, together with a modification of the rules which he thought would sufficiently secure the ends desired by Government. This counter-proposal was discussed, and the meeting adjourned at 1-30 P.M.

III.

Proceedings of the Committee appointed to report on the Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces in Bengal.

Third Meeting.—Held on Wednesday, the 2nd February 1881, at 11 A.M.

Present: The President and members as on the last occasion, with the exception of Nawab Syud Asgur Ali, who was unavoidably absent.

The President's proposal was again discussed, and the existing rules and registers were very carefully examined, with especial reference to the modifications suggested by Nawab Abdool Luteef. Finally, it was settled that the President should set forth his scheme in a written form for the consideration of the Committee, and that Nawab Abdool Luteef should record his objections to it, and at the same time indicate in writing the propositions he would himself recommend for adoption.

The meeting was adjourned at 1-30 P.M.

IV.

Proceedings of the Committee appointed to report on the Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces in Bengal.

Fourth Meeting.—Held on Tuesday, the 22nd February 1881, at 11 A.M.

Present: The President and members as before, with the exception of Syud Ameer Hossein and Mr. Handley, who were unavoidably absent.

The report and draft Bill drawn up by the President, and previously circulated by him, were read, and their clauses discussed and accepted by all the members with a few verbal alterations. Syud Ameer Hossein and Mr. Handley, who had seen the drafts in proof, had already expressed to the President their concurrence. Nawab Abdool Luteef, while willing to sign the report, would do so only under reservation, with reference to a separate memorandum he wished to record and annex to the report of the Committee.

The meeting was adjourned at 1-45 P.M.

V.

Proceedings of the Committee appointed to report on the Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces in Bengal.

Fifth Meeting.—Held on Monday, the 28th February 1881, at 11 A.M.

Present: The President and all the members, with the exception of Mr. Handley, whose illness prevented his presence.

The draft report was laid before the Committee and signed by all the members. Mr. Handley's signature was affixed under authority communicated by him to the President to that effect. The Memorandum recorded by Nawab Abdool Luteef was also laid before the Committee, and it was agreed that it should be appended to the report.

The proceedings of the Committee were then brought to a close.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE OPERATIONS OF THE ROAD CESS AND PUBLIC WORKS CESS ACTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING ON 30TH SEPTEMBER 1880.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—ROAD CESS.

Calcutta, the 3rd May 1881.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter from the Board of Revenue, No. 172A, dated the 25th March 1881, submitting the Annual Report and Returns showing the operations of the Road Cess and Public Works Cess Acts for the year ending on the 30th September 1880.

Read also—

The Government Resolution, dated 25th May 1880, on the Board's report on the collections of Road and Public Works Cesses for the year 1878-79.

The new Cess Act received the assent of the Governor-General on the 1st October 1880, so that the collections of the road and public works cesses were made under the old Acts during the year under review. These Acts were in operation throughout the year in all districts in Bengal, except Singbhoom, the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and the Chittagong Hill Tracts. The collection of both cesses was, as in the previous year, made by a single agency.

2. The public works cess was levied at the maximum rate of six pies in the rupee in all the districts in which Act II (B.C.) of 1877 was in force. The road cess was levied at the maximum rate in all districts in which Act X (B.C.) of 1871 was in force, except Backergunge where it was levied at half, and Sarun, Chumparun, and Lohardugga where it was levied at three-fourths the maximum rate.

3. The form of statement I appended to the report, showing the demand, collections, and arrears of the two cesses on lands and mines, has been slightly altered. The Board have omitted the column showing the percentage of current collections on current demand, retaining only the column showing the percentage of total collections on current demand. The Board admit that this method of estimating the work done is not equally applicable to all cases. The Lieutenant-Governor has found it impossible to form any accurate comparison of the relative merits of the work done in each district on a reference to the lists framed on the basis of this test. An officer, who has considerable arrears to collect as well as the current demand, may show extremely good results, though the current collections may not have been really satisfactory; while an officer who has practically collected all the Government dues, but who had no arrears to start with, may appear to have done inferior work. Thus Darjeeling shows 116 per cent., the gross collections amounting to Rs. 39,225, while the current demand was only Rs. 33,796. But this sum of Rs. 39,225 includes Rs. 10,343 collected on account of arrears, and the year closed with a gross arrear balance of Rs. 11,383, consisting of Rs. 7,202 on account of old arrears and Rs. 1,181 on account of arrears of the year's demand. Pooree on the other hand shows only 97·1 per cent., although as a matter of fact the gross collections actually exceeded the net demand, some advance payments for 1880-81 being included. The cause of this was that considerable advance collections had been made in the previous year, while there was no outstanding balance. Thus the "current demand" having been forestalled, the actual collections compared with it appear to show a deficiency. The Lieutenant-Governor cordially recognizes the excellent work done by some officers in reducing old balances; but it is clear that to attain a high place on a list framed on this principle, a previous accumulation of arrears, from whatever cause, is necessary, and that as a comparative test this calculation of percentage is misleading. The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad if the Board will in future show separately, for purposes of comparison, the percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand, and the percentage of current collections on net current demand.

4. The statement for 1878-79 showed a closing arrear balance of Rs. 10,22,004, and advance collections on account of 1879-80 amounting to Rs. 1,02,284. It was found, however, that of the latter sum Rs. 9,175 should have been placed to the credit of 1878-79. The year 1879-80 thus actually opened with an outstanding balance of Rs. 10,12,829, comprising Rs. 4,81,995 on account of road cess, and Rs. 5,30,834 on account of public works cess. The demand of the year amounted to Rs. 68,37,377, of which Rs. 33,36,123 belonged to road cess, and Rs. 35,01,254 to public works cess. The demand under road cess showed an increase of Rs. 98,440 compared with the previous year, while under public works cess, there was a decrease of Rs. 2,435. The cause of the increase under road cess is to be found in the fact that the contribution was raised in Rajshahye from three-fourths and in Gya from one-half rates to full rates. In the public works cess, on the other hand, full rates were levied in both years, and the Board justly remark that in the interval between the completion of the valuation and re-valuation, there must be a tendency to decline, cases of hardship, diluvion, or double assessment leading to remission, while no enhancement can be made. Thus the gross demand, including arrears, for both cesses amounted to Rs. 78,50,206. Of this, Rs. 69,16,233 were collected during the year under review, exclusive of the amount collected in advance in the previous year, but inclusive of the amount collected in advance for 1880-81; Rs. 21,289 were remitted; and there was left an outstanding balance of Rs. 9,22,758, namely, Rs. 4,39,311 on account of road cess, and Rs. 4,83,447 on account of public works cess. Of the gross arrears before remission (Rs. 9,44,047) no less than Rs 1,74,934 had been outstanding more than a year. This is not satisfactory. The arrears have been reduced by Rs. 90,071, the percentage of arrears on the gross demand being 11·7, against 13·2 in the previous year, 14·5 in 1877-78, and 12·3 in 1876-77, the earliest year in which the operations were of sufficient magnitude to admit of useful comparison. The Lieutenant-Governor looks for better results under the procedure of the new law during the current year.

5. There was a considerable decrease in the gross amount of arrears at the close of the year in Backergunge, Chittagong, Noakholly, Mymensingh, Sarun, and Furreedpore. In Backergunge there was a very satisfactory decrease in the old balance from Rs. 1,48,841 to Rs. 18,121, and in Chittagong the old balance was reduced from Rs. 57,635 to Rs. 5,913. In the other districts named, however, a large portion of the old balance remained uncollected at the close of the year. The least satisfactory figures in this respect are those of Mymensingh, where the old balance was only reduced from Rs. 56,821 to Rs. 28,873.

In Moorshedabad, Bhagulpore, Gya, Durbhunga, Shahabad, Rajshahye, and Cuttack, there was a considerable increase in the arrears, and in Shahabad a large part of the old balance remained uncollected. The Board justly remark that in the absence of any special explanation, the results in Gya, Durbhunga, and Shahabad can only be ascribed to unsatisfactory administration. In Moorshedabad a great part of the balance is due from Wards' estates which have not sufficient funds to pay the cess demand after discharge of the Government claim for revenue. The same cause affected the balance in Rajshahye. In Bhagulpore the plea of the insufficiency of the provisions of the old law cannot be accepted, while neighbouring districts with the same machinery show so much better results. The explanation offered in regard to Cuttack is not satisfactory. The Board have called for a further report, and this will be awaited.

On the whole the Lieutenant-Governor finds the administration of the cesses to have been creditable to the local officers. The Collectors of Backergunge and Chittagong are deserving of special commendation for the energy displayed by them in reducing the arrears, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the facilities afforded by the new law will enable district officers generally to make the collections keep pace with the current demand.

The Board append figures to show the progress made during the first quarter of 1880-81 in realizing the arrears outstanding at the close of the year under review. These show that good progress was made in Manbhoom, Bhagulpore, Shahabad, Gya, Backergunge, Rungpore, Jessore, and 24-Pergunnahs, while little was done in Burdwan, Midnapore, Rajshahye, Furreedpore, Mymensingh, Patna, Durbhunga, and Monghyr.

6. House Cess.—The operations under this head were confined during the year to the collection of arrears, the levy of the cess on houses having been suspended from 1st April 1878. The outstanding balance at the beginning of the year was Rs. 40,969, the amount realized was Rs. 2,799, and the balance left was Rs. 38, 170, which has been written off the accounts.

7. Some progress has been made in the attempt to reconcile the figures shown in the Accountant-General's books and those submitted to the Board quarterly by the Collectors. The use of the new form of quarterly cess return prescribed by the Board, and the more punctual submission of figures for each quarter by the Accountant-General, have enabled the Board to call for explanations of discrepancies, and the result has been that fewer instances of disagreement between the two sets of figures have occurred.

8. Other matters.—One important subject which occupied attention during the year under review was the re-valuation of estates in districts in which the quinquennial period had expired. Entire re-valuation was sanctioned by Government only in the districts of Julpigoree, Manbhoom, Monghyr, Bhagulpore, and Maldah; and partial re-valuations were ordered in Beerbhoom, 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, Moorshedabad, Dinagepore, Bogra, Tipperah, and Mymensingh in addition to the districts named in the margin, in which operations had been commenced during the previous year. The re-valuations in Rajshahye, Hazaribagh, and Purneah were brought to a close during the year under review, resulting in a net increase of Rs. 15,302 in Rajshahye; Rs. 28,547 in Hazaribagh; and Rs. 8,06,717 in Purneah. The Collector's proceedings, however, in Purneah, were vitiated by an error of procedure. Finding that the ryots almost universally pay a cess called babut or algee to the superior holders in order to escape enhancement of rent, the Collector corrected the returns submitted to him for certain pergunnahs by adding from four to six annas to every rupee of rent. The law, however, does not admit of formal correction under such circumstances, and even if it did, such a cess could not be admitted as forming part of the annual value of the land. It has, moreover, been the consistent policy of Government not to recognize illegal cesses in any form. The proceedings will accordingly be amended. The completion report of the Hooghly district had not been received by the Board when the year closed, and the explanation offered is not quite satisfactory. Valuations were in progress in the other districts. The question of the method of paying the cesses in Government estates and attached estates forms a part of a general proposal of the Government of India to lay down a fair percentage of the collections in all such estates as the Imperial share, leaving the remainder as a provincial asset to cover the costs of management. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that the Board's report on this proposal is under submission.

No. 365B, dated Fort William, the 9th May 1881.

From—A. FORBES, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L. P.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

I AM directed to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the third quarter of 1880-81, comprising the months of October, November, and December 1880.

MR. REYNOLDS.

3. The quantity of excise salt sold in the districts of Cuttack, Poorce, Balasore, and 24-Pergunnahs during the present quarter from the stock of the different seasons' manufacture, and the quantity which remained in store at the close of the quarter, are shown in Table I.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE REFORMATORY SCHOOL FOR 1880.

JAILS.

Darjeeling, the 14th May 1881.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 38, dated the 23rd April 1881, from the Vice-President of the Board of Management of the Reformatory School at Alipore, forwarding the report of the Superintendent for the year 1880.

Read also—

The report for the preceding year and the orders of Government thereon.

There were 96 boys in the school on the 1st January 1880, and during the past year there were 24 fresh admissions—15 from the mofussil, and 9 from the Police Courts of Alipore and Calcutta. In addition to these, 2 boys who had previously escaped were recaptured. The total number in the school during the year was thus 122. Of these, 11 were released on the expiry of their sentences, 2 were made over to the care of their friends before the termination of their sentences, 2 died, 3 escaped, and 1 boy was sent before the Magistrate for trial for a theft committed in the school. The number of boys remaining in the Reformatory at the end of the year was therefore 103, of whom 55 were Hindoos and 46 Mahomedans. The average number of inmates has risen from 49·62 in 1878, the year in which the school was established, to 85·67 in 1879 and 98·32 in 1880. During the whole of the past year the school was quite full, and fresh inmates could only be received as vacancies occurred.

2. There was considerable improvement in the conduct and behaviour of the boys during the past year, and although discipline was strictly enforced, the average number of punishments per inmate fell from 11·8 to 8·2. Most of the punishments are of a very trivial nature, but every case is recorded, and the punishment book is submitted weekly for the examination of the Board. The mark system under which each boy is able to earn a small weekly allowance for good conduct and industry continues to work successfully. Half of the sum earned is given to the boy to spend at once in any harmless way he pleases, and the other half is placed in the Savings Bank where it accumulates until his release. Altogether Rs. 63-11 was thus deposited by the boys during the year 1880, and Rs. 24-8-0 was withdrawn by the boys released during the year. There was a marked decrease of sickness among the boys, the average daily number under treatment falling from 2·08 in 1879 to 1·50 in 1880, notwithstanding the increase in the number of inmates

3. The boys rise in summer at 4-30 A.M and in winter at 5-30 A.M. Up to 7 A.M. they are employed in cleaning the wards and premises and in gardening; from 7 to 8 A.M. is the morning school hour; and from 8 to 10 A.M. the boys are employed at their trades in the workshop. They then bathe and have breakfast, after which they return to work until 2 P.M., when an hour is allowed for recreation. Work is then resumed until 5 P.M., when the boys wash and have dinner. After this they have the option of going to their wards or attending a night school which was introduced at the express wish of some of the boys. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely agrees with the Board that it is quite sufficient to give the boys a fair knowledge of reading and writing, and that the main object of the Reformatory is to teach them a trade by which they will be able to earn their living honestly, and not to turn out adults with any pretension to education.

4. The Superintendent has dwelt at considerable length on the questions of the most suitable age for boys to enter the Reformatory and the proper period of detention. Under the existing rules no boy can on a first conviction be sent to the Reformatory for less than five years if he is under ten years of age, or for less than three years if he is over ten years of age; while for a second or subsequent conviction he cannot be sent for less than seven years if he is under ten years of age, or for less than five years if he is over ten years of age, provided that in no case can a boy remain in the Reformatory after reaching the age of 18 years. These rules were necessarily of a somewhat tentative character, and the Board of Management were requested some time ago to draw up further rules for the guidance of Magistrates in selecting juvenile criminals for the Reformatory. The rules have just been received and are now under the consideration of Government.

5. The total expenditure on the Reformatory during the year amounted to Rs. 13,100 as compared with Rs. 11,428 in 1879, the cost per head being Rs. 132-5-7 in 1880 against Rs. 133-5-6 in 1879. The only items for which there was an increased expenditure per head of the inmates were clothing and fixed establishment, the increase in the latter being due to the confirmation of Mr. Kirschner as Superintendent. There was a decrease of Rs. 1-14-8 per head in the cost of diet, and of Rs. 1-2 per head in hospital expenses.

6. The Manufactory Department of the Reformatory made great progress during the year. After deducting the cost of raw materials used in manufactures, and the pay of the extra trade instructors, the net profits amounted to Rs. 2,538 as compared with Rs. 1,589 in the previous year. In addition to this, the boys were employed in carrying out some minor public works in connection with the school, and the value of their labour on these works is estimated at Rs. 415, so that the net profits of the boys' work really amounted to very nearly Rs. 3,000. This result is, the Lieutenant-Governor considers, very satisfactory, and creditable to the Superintendent. The trades taught were those of the carpenter, tinsmith, cane-worker, blacksmith and bookbinder; and good work was also done in the garden, which yielded a considerable profit by the sale of the surplus produce after the requirements of the school had been supplied.

7. Sir Ashley Eden is glad to find, from the concluding paragraphs of the report, that there is already some evidence that the inmates of the Reformatory are being permanently benefited by it. Out of six boys released during the years 1879 and 1880, and regarding whom information has been received since their release, only one is reported to have relapsed into habits of dishonesty. One of the boys who was released in March 1880 obtained employment as a carpenter on a salary of Rs. 15 per month. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due to the Board of Management for the attention bestowed by them on the Institution during the past year.

8. The question of the establishment of a second Reformatory for Behar boys is under the consideration of Government.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the President of the Board of Management for the information of the members of the Board, and that another copy and a copy of the report be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Jails.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

HORACE A. COCKERELL,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REMOVAL OF OBSTRUCTIONS TO DRAINAGE.

MEDICAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.—SANITATION.

Dated Darjeeling, the 28th April 1881.

RESOLUTION.

READ again—

Government Resolution dated the 12th June 1880, on the subject of improving the drainage of towns and villages in Bengal.

Read also—

(1). Letters to the Commissioners of the Burdwan, Presidency, and Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divisions, Nos. 5-7, dated the 18th January 1881, requesting them to report what measures had been taken in each district of their respective divisions upon the orders contained in paragraph 4 of the Government Resolution above quoted; whether any special provision had been made for the removal of obstructions to drainage by any District Road Cess Committee; how far the District Engineering Staff had assisted in bringing obstructions to notice; and generally what action had been taken by the different district officers in the matter.

(2). Replies from the Commissioners named.

In the Government Resolution of the 12th June last, quoted in the preamble, the attention of district officers was drawn to the necessity of providing for the general improvement of district drainage, and it was observed that the District Engineer and his staff should be instructed to lose no opportunity of bringing before the District Road Cess Committee, and the District Magistrate, any obvious obstructions to drainage which they might discover in the course of their ordinary duties. It was pointed out that the existing law gives the district officer large powers of remedying such evils, while District Committees are empowered by the new Cess Act to spend part of their funds upon "the construction and maintenance of any means and appliances for improving the supply of drinking-water or for providing or improving drainage." As regards the more extensive schemes of drainage, involving questions of reclamation, the attention of district officers was drawn to the amended Drainage Act, and it was said that the services of Government Engineers would be lent for the purpose of examining and developing projects of that class. It was added that it would rest with the local officers and public bodies, or with those directly interested, to bring forward schemes for improvement and reclamation, availing themselves of the powers which were given them under the law, and of the aid which Government was always anxious to afford them.

2. Very little appears to have been done in the district of Hooghly, and nothing in Burdwan, to give effect to the orders of Government. The Commissioner states that he proposes to visit these districts shortly, and, in consultation with the Collectors, to elaborate a scheme for a systematic inspection of the drainage. His view is that a definite tract of land should be taken in hand each year, and thoroughly cleared of all obstructions. The District Engineer should examine the selected tract, and submit a scheme to the District Road Cess Committee, which should endeavour to provide funds and carry out the work, aided by subscriptions from wealthy landowners. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the Commissioner will submit a further report on the 1st January next of the steps taken to improve the drainage.

3. In most of the districts of the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Division no improvements in the direction indicated have been undertaken for want of funds. But improvements may frequently be made without any large expenditure of money, if the District Engineering staff give advice, and the District Officer endeavours to induce the zemindars and the villagers to take up the work themselves, with or without small contributions from Road Cess Funds. Much good may also be done by the timely removal of fishing dams and other obstructions. Large works can only be carried out gradually; and, as proposed by the Commissioner of Burdwan, selected tracts should be taken up and endeavours made to improve the drainage systematically, the cost being met partly from Road Cess Funds, so far as these can be made available, and partly from public subscriptions.

4. The Rampore Beauleah Municipality have taken steps for the preparation of a drainage scheme for that town. Some obstructions in the Burral river have been brought to notice, and the District Engineer has been called upon to report on the matter. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that the condition of the Burral requires real and serious attention, and he hopes that no time will be lost in devising measures to remove the obstructions in that river.

5. The remarks in paragraph 2 apply to the districts of Nuddea and Moorshedabad, in the Presidency Division. The matter is one to which the Lieutenant-Governor attaches great importance, and he hopes to see more attention paid to it in future. Government will always be prepared to give grants-in-aid of good and well-considered schemes for improving the drainage of populous tracts.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioners of the Burdwan, Presidency, and Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divisions, for information and communication to District Officers for their guidance.

Also that a copy be forwarded to the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for information.

Also that a copy be forwarded to the Public Works Department (Irrigation Branch) of this Government for information.

Also that this Resolution, together with the reports from the Commissioners referred to in the preamble, be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

No. 152, dated Chinsurah, the 31st March 1881.

From—J. BEAMES, ESQ., Officiating Commissioner of the Burdwan Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Medical and Municipal Dept.

I HAVE the honor to reply to your No. 5, dated 18th January 1881, on the subject of removing obstructions to drainage in villages.

2. From my letter No 74, dated 12th February, and No. 118, dated 11th March, Government will have derived much of the information asked for in your letter under reply. In the present report I shall confine myself to the question of the measure taken by District Officers and Road Cess Committees.

3. The submontane districts of Beerbhoom, Bankoora, and North-Western Midnapore, together with the Raneegunge sub-division of Burdwan, do not call for any special notice. As I said in my letters referred to above, nature has there done all that is necessary; if any artificial measures are required there they are of a trifling description.

4. It is in the deltaic districts of Burdwan, Hooghly with Howrah, and South-Eastern Midnapore, that the question becomes one of the very highest importance, and I think it will be necessary for me to organize some more systematic manner of treating it than has yet been adopted. Undoubtedly, a certain amount of good work has been done, as already reported in my No. 74, dated 12th February, quoted above; but there is a desultoriness and want of earnestness in the way the subject has been taken up that promises badly for the future.

5. In Hooghly, grants for the purpose of removing obstructions have been made in seven or eight places in the sudder sub-division. Two of these grants were made to villages where there are Government dispensaries, the medical officers in charge of which are well-fitted to superintend the works from a sanitary point of view. The District Road Committee had submitted their budget for the ensuing cess year before the new Road Cess Act came into force. No provision for such works has therefore been made, but it is almost certain that money could be found for any urgent or necessary work. There are always savings in a budget, and it is generally possible to transfer small sums from some head of less urgency. The plea of having no funds cannot, therefore, be allowed to stand in the way of executing necessary works.

6. The District Engineer has been called on to report on any obstructions he may come upon; but I do not find that he has yet done so in any case.

7. A special scheme for the drainage of the Serampore Municipality is now under consideration. The correspondence at present ends with No. 4807*I*, dated 2nd December 1880, Public Works Department, Irrigation Branch. The other municipalities have not yet considered the subject.

8. In Howrah, nothing has been done or attempted The three great drainage schemes of Rajapore, Amptah, and Howrah, will probably do for this district nearly all that is necessary.

9. In Burdwan, the District Engineer is stated to have reported that there is nowhere any obstruction to drainage—a statement which seems to show that the District Engineer has paid very little attention to the subject.

10. In the Municipalities of Kutwa, Culna, and Dainhat some levels have been taken, and some slight improvements made.

11. In Midnapore, the Contai and Tumlook sub-divisions are very low, and the drainage is in many places much obstructed. Here, however, we have more control, as the country is intersected with numerous embankments under the management of Government officers, and it only needs a little energy in the application of the Act to get the khals properly cleared of silt periodically. Great attention is being paid to this matter, and, I believe, with good results. In constructing roads great care is taken to avoid obstructing the natural drainage of the country. Causeways and culverts are freely constructed, and the District Engineer writes about the matter in an intelligent way, which shows that he thoroughly understands and attends to it.

12. The least satisfactory districts are Hooghly and Burdwan. I am going on tour to Burdwan shortly, and will then, in consultation with the Collector, elaborate a scheme for a systematic inspection of the state of drainage of the district. As soon as the new Collector, Mr. Quinn, arrives at Hooghly, I will similarly arrange matters with him.

13. My idea is that a definite tract of land should be taken in hand each year, and thoroughly cleared of all obstructions. The District Engineer should examine the selected tract, and submit a scheme to the District Road Cess Committee, with should provide funds and carry out the work aided by subscriptions from wealthy landowners, who are always forthcoming for public purposes in Hooghly. I would make the municipalities, which lie in a long unbroken line, all along the bank of the river Hooghly, provide for their own drainage partly into the river, and partly under the railway into the Dankoonee and other jheels The tracts to be selected at first for clearance of obstructions should be those lying immediately eastward of the municipalities, the drainage of which falls naturally into Saraswati.

14. The sub-divisional officers of Serampore and Jehanabad can simultaneously examine and report on the drainage of their sub-divisions with the professional assistance of District Engineers' overseers.

15. Unless we take up the matter in some such systematic way as I have indicated above, it will drag on for years, and no satisfactory results will be attained.

No. 64JCt., dated Darjeeling, the 4th April 1881.

From—Lord H. Ulick Browne, Commr. of the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divn.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Medical and Municipal Dept.

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of Government letter No. 7, dated 18th January 1 81, requesting a report on the measures taken in each district of this division to remove obstructions to drainage, and other particulars connected therewith, with reference to the orders contained in paragraph 4 of Government Resolution of 12th June 1880, and in reply to state as follows.

2. Dinagepore.—The Magistrate of Dinagepore reports that the District Road Cess Committee of his district have very little money to spare after providing for road works to make any provision for removing obstructions to drainage, but they have provided funds for the cost of three bridges built over the drainage cut near the sudder station. The District Engineer noticed two instances of obstructions on two main roads where culverts have been put in. The Magistrate further states that it is in contemplation to drain a large tract of country lying between two main roads which is inundated by the floods of the Poornabhaba by closing a bridge on the road through which the floods come, and making provision for the local drainage by deepening two existing nullahs which have silted up.

3. Rajshahye.—The roads in this district are in such a backward state that it has been impossible for the district engineering staff, whose chief attention is directed to the construction and repair of roads and bridges, to do anything in this direction, except to remove obstructions injuriously affecting the particular road on which work is going on. The District Engineer, however, brought to notice two instances of obstructions. One occurred at the junction of the Jhulumleah khal with the Narrud river, occasioned by the silting up of the latter. This obstruction has been removed, and there is now a good current through the Narrud during the rains, and the khal will be again cleared this year. The other was an obstruction to the natural drainage of the town near the station in a deep and clearly-defined khal which is choked up, the ryots having embanked it in several places. The Municipality of Rampore Beauleah have engaged the services of an overseer to take the levels of the town with a view to the preparation of a drainage scheme, and a copy of the District Engineer's remarks in regard to this latter obstruction has been sent to the overseer in order that the latter may investigate the matter further.

During his last cold-weather tour the Magistrate found the formation of a bar across the Burral at its junction with the Mooshakhan Jolah, and Mr. Lyon, the Sub-divisional Officer of Nattore, reported a like obstruction higher up in the same river. These are not only obstructions to drainage, but also to an important navigable highway, and the District Engineer has been called upon to report what measures he can take to remove them.

As regards the making of any special provision by the District Road Cess Committee for such works, the Chairman states: "No funds have been allotted in this year's budget for drainage purposes, but the subject shall not be lost sight of, and where the funds of the Committee can be judiciously spent in improving drainage, I shall not fail to advise the Committee to make an allotment of its funds for such purpose.

4. Pubna.—The Magistrate of Pubna reports that no special provision has been made this year by the District Road Cess Committee for improving the drainage, because there are no tracts in his district which could be operated upon. The outer edge of the district is high and well drained, and the parts which are low and swampy appear to be of themselves rising to a higher level It is also reported that it is not a fact that those parts of the district are most unhealthy. The district engineering staff have not noticed or taken action in regard to obstructions to drainage, excepting that they and the Magistrate have arranged for the construction of bridges in the ordinary course of his road cess work.

5. Bogra.—In this district the Gopeenathpore and Sonamukhee road was thrice cut during the rains in order to remove obstructions to drainage, and the district engineering staff was employed in the work. Four additional culverts were for the same reason constructed on the Chaitangram road, and some temporary wooden bridges were also made in two other roads to increase the waterway.

No special measures were taken in this direction in Bogra. Mr. Testro writes: "Our attention and funds are very much devoted to completing a system of railway feeder roads. Until this system is completed, it does not seem desirable to hunt up opportunities of spending money. However, any real want brought to notice would have to be attended to, and the engineering staff is instructed to bring obstructions to notice. Everything of the kind brought to notice during the year was attended to."

6. Rungpore.—The Magistrate of Rungpore states that no special provision for removing obstructions to drainage was made by the District Road Cess Committee of that district, the only action taken being the Rungpore drainage scheme and the issue of certain orders removing obstructions in two rivers. The district of Rungpore is covered with a network of old river beds now silted up. During the rains they have a current, but in other times they are full of stagnant water. The Magistrate says that there is no prospect of draining such places unless at enormous and constantly recurring cost, and that an effective drainage scheme would embrace a large area and require careful investigation before it is adopted.

It is not reported whether the district engineering staff have assisted in bringing obstructions to notice. The Magistrate says, however, that orders have been issued to the staff and other officers in his district, inviting their attention to the matter, and that the District Road Cess Committee will co-operate with the zemindars, who are always willing to aid in works of public utility to remedy the evil as far as possible.

7. Julpigoree.—On receipt of the Government Resolution of 12th June 1880, the Deputy Commissioner directed the District Engineer to form a scheme for the drainage of the town of Julpigoree; but as the natural slope of the country, assisted by numerous petty streams, froms an excellent system of drainage in this district, there was very little, the Deputy Commissioner reports, for the district engineering staff to do in this direction.

No special provision is reported to have been made by the District Road Cess Committee for such works, and Government, in the Public Works Department, are well aware that most pressing demands for the completion or construction of roads will swallow up the road cess funds for many years to come.

8. Darjeeling.—It is reported that the funds of the Terai Road Cess Committee being limited, no special provision could be made for removing obstructions to drainage,

All possible means are, however, being adopted to keep the side drains of the existing roads clear, and increased attention is paid to the provision of sufficient waterway through the roads.

9. As I have said on former occasions, very little can be done for want of money, unless the removal of obstructions to drainage can be carried out in connection with road making or road improvement, as double and treble the annual income of the Road Cess Committees could be spent on roads and bridges with great advantage.

No. 11MM, dated Alipore, the 15th April 1881.

From—F. B. PEACOCK, Esq., Officiating Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Medical and Municipal Dept.

REFERRING to your letter No 6, dated the 18th of January last, relative to the measures that have been taken in each district of this Division to remove obstructions to drainage, &c, I have the honour to report as follows.

2. The action taken by the District Road Cess Committee, 24-Pergunnahs, in the matter has already been reported in paragraphs 3 to 6 of this office letter No. 168MM, dated the 6th March 1880, and in letter No. 4MM, dated 7th April following, with enclosures. A provision of Rs. 2,300 has since been made in the cess budget estimate for the current year on account of the improvement of the drainage of Naihatty and Gorriffa.

3. The Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department seems to have directed its attention to giving effect to the scheme suggested by Mr. Whitfield for the improvement of the defective drainage in the district. My opinion being invited as to which of the schemes of drainage and reclamation of land in the 24-Pergunnahs enumerated in Mr. Whitfield's report of the 31st of March 1879 should first be taken in hand, I stated (vide my letter No. 21MM, dated 6th March 1881), that it would be well to commence with the construction of the 11 or 12 sluices mentioned in paragraph 4 of the Executive Engineer's report, above referred to, as being not only a most important work in itself, but because the designs having been prepared it could most speedily be taken in hand.

4. It is reported by the District Officer of Nudden that the District Engineer and his staff were a good deal occupied in bringing to notice instances of obstructed drainage, in devising schemes for the improvement of the Kishnaghur town, and the tract traversed by the Bongong and Chagdah feeder road, which could not, however, be carried out owing to want of funds. The District Road Cess Committee is reported to have allotted Rs. 830 for the construction of three culverts to remove obstructions to drainage caused by the roads, viz. one at an outlay of Rs. 280 on the Kishnaghur and the Buggula road, another at a cost of Rs. 250 on the Ranaghat and Santipore road, and the third on the Kushtea and Salgamudia road, at an estimated expenditure of Rs. 300.

5. It is further reported by the Magistrate that some attention has been paid to the matter in nearly all the municipalities of the district that side-drains to the roads have been repaired and dug in many places, and that care is taken to improve the drainage in the construction of new village roads.

6. In Jessore no information with regard to obstructed drainage was received by the District Officer, either from the Sub-divisional Officers or from the District Engineer; but it is reported by Mr. Barton that in fact there is little or no serious obstructions to drainage in the district which require to be removed. He has visited almost every part of the district during his late cold-weather tour, and met with no instance of embankments or other large works raised for the purposes of agriculture or communication, causing injurious obstruction to drainage. He adds that the country, or at least the greater part of it, is intersected by a net-work of rivers and other water-courses, not only supplying pure drinking-water to the villages through which they run, but carrying off heaps of accumulated refuse during the rains. The want of pure drinking-water during the dry season in inland villages, and villages far away from rivers, is admitted by him. This, however, is common to all districts alike, and the only way in which it can be remedied is by getting both zemindars and the people themselves to combine together in improving the existing sources of supply. The importance of this subject is not lost sight of, and no opportunity of pointing out what is required is lost by District and Sub-divisional Officers when moving about their respective charges.

7. Writing on this subject the Magistrate of Moorshedabad states that within the municipalities great attention is paid to the drainage by the Commissioners, and that there are no obvious obstructions. For the draining off of the water from within the City Moorshedabad town, a drainage scheme has been sanctioned, and the work is going on under the supervision of the Public Works Department. This will prove beneficial to the health of the people. No case of obstruction to drainage was brought to light either by the police or the engineering staff.

8. It is stated that the District Road Cess Committee were unable to make any provision for the construction of drains that might improve the sanitation of the district during the present year for want of funds.

The mean pressure, temperature &c are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o overcast, g gloomy, d drizzling rain, ⁄ strong wind, p passing temporary showers, t thunder, < lightning, = fog.

showing a decrease on the total public traffic of 4 87 per cent.

The coaching portion of the receipts continues the improvement already shown in the previous months of the year. There is an increase of 51,000 in number and Rs 1,12,680 in earnings in the ordinary third class passenger traffic

The goods traffic has fallen off to the extent of Rs. 3,62,907, being 14 per cent of the goods receipts, while the weight carried has decreased 6 62 per cent. only

The principal staples which have affected the earnings are - he following remarks will explain the cause of the fluctuations :—

INCREASES.

Coal, upwards.—The total increase from Giridi to up-country stations is maunds 99 780 and Rs 48,850, but these figures are reduced by decreases elsewhere

Rice.—Calcutta market prices are very low compared with the corresponding period of 1880, and the downwards traffic is normal We continued, however, to carry rice to the North West

Pulses.—The increases are from Mokameh, Barbea, and Luckeesarai downwards, and from Deorse upwards

Iron.—Calcutta current prices for iron are much below those of last year, and up-country buyers appear to be taking advantage of this.

Jaggree. The demand for jaggree has been large in Rajpootana, the Punjab, Central Provinces, and at the stations on the western coast of India

Salt.—An increase is apparent in salt, but it is of little moment when compared with the falling off we have experienced during the past four months.

Seeds.—The principal increases and decreases at dispatching stations are given below :—

DECREASES.

Coal, downwards.—English coal continues in demand to the prejudice of country steam coal, and decreases are shown at nearly all the coal stations.

Cotton.—The market has been depressed in consequence of discouraging advices of demand from both Europe and China, and prices have declined.

Ghee and Oil.—Minor decreases in the despatch of ghee are shown at Patna Ghât, Kutnee, and Cawnpore; the largest proportion of the falling off is in kerosine-oil from Howrah.

Government stores—Ordnance and Commissariat.—Consignments to the various depôts were not large during the period.

Wheat.—The following statement will give the principal stations where increases and decreases are apparent :—

Other grains.—The districts whence supplies of food-grains are generally obtainable are themselves in somewhat straitened circumstances this year, owing to failure of crops.

Hides.—Imports into Calcutta from up-country have been very light, and are bought up at once. Stocks are reported as exhausted, but the supplies come in very slowly, and business is restricted.

Opium.—Despatches of Government opium were unexpectedly resumed in March 1880, hence the decrease this year.

Piece-goods.—This large decrease occurs at Howrah, and is attributed to the absence of demand from up-country markets, and to the occurrence of the "Holi" festival when business is entirely suspended.

Railway material, foreign.—The quantity of material carried for foreign lines is quite nominal just now, while during the same period last year we moved large quantities from Howrah to various stations in the North-West and the Punjab for State Railways.

Sugar.—This decrease appears to be owing to a failure of the sugarcane crop in the North-West on account of last year's drought.

Train mileage for the period has been, excluding maintenance—

The increase in coaching is in consequence of more special trains running, while the decrease in goods has followed on the lesser weight carried.

Increase.

Edible grains ... ... Mds. 3,707

The favorable market price and the greater demand at Calcutta have increased the movement under this head.

Sugar and jaggree ... ... Mds. 857

The increase under this head is due to greater demand at Azimgunge.

Cotton ... ... Mds 285

The increase is due to greater import at Azimgunge, the stock being exhausted.

Seeds of all sorts ... ... Mds. 3,549

There not being sufficient water in the river this year, the merchants are bringing mustard-seed by rail from Durbhangha, Patna, &c. instead of by boat; hence the increase.

Decrease.

Coal ... ... Mds. 238

The decrease is due to less brick-burning in this year than the previous year. Last year's stock not yet exhausted sufficiently.

Sundries ... ... Mds. 318

The decrease under this head is due to other smaller items of staples not having been included in this.

NOTIFICATION.

The 13th May 1881.—The following additions and amendments to the rules for the grant of leases for the cultivation in the districts of Julpigoree and Darjeeling, which were published at page 1116 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 16th October 1878 and two subsequent issues, having been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, are notified for general information :—

(I.) Rule 11A.—The Deputy Commissioner shall at once send a copy of any order passed under rule 11 to the Conservator of Forests, in order that an estimate may be made by the Forest Department of the value of any forest trees standing on the land. The Conservator of Forests will depute an officer to examine the land, and make a detailed report suggesting the average rate per acre at which payment should be made for such trees. Such officer, in valuing the timber, shall have regard to its present market value on the spot, and to the local circumstances of the case, the accessibility of the grant, and the prospect of markets for timber becoming available during the currency of the lease. The Conservator will carefully examine the report, and forward it to the Deputy Commissioner with such remarks and alterations as he may think necessary. If the Deputy Commissioner, on receipt of the Conservator's decision, sees reason to object to the proposed rate per acre, he may refer the matter to the Commissioner, who shall take the orders of the Board of Revenue and of Government on any point on which he and the Conservator may eventually differ.

(2.) In rule 20, line 3, for the words "and to pay for all valuable forest trees as provided in clause 10 of the preliminary lease. He will also direct him to mark out," should be substituted "and to pay for forest trees the sum assessed under rule 11A. Payment for these may be made by instalments with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, which will only be given when the Board is fully satisfied of the good faith and solvency of the applicant. In such case the dates and amounts of the instalments shall be endorsed upon the lease, and the lessee must covenant that, in the event of his throwing up his lease, all outstanding instalments shall be forthwith recoverable from him under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880, whether the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not, but he shall have no further right to fell or remove timber from the grant. FINANCIAL, INDIA OFFICE,

No. 125. London, 7th April 1881.

To His Excellency the Most Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—

PARA. 1.—In my despatch of the 23rd of September 1880, No. 317, I informed Your Excellency that Her Majesty's Government had determined that a substantial contribution to the expenses incurred in the Afghan war should be made by the Imperial Treasury.

2. I have now to inform your Government that, on the 16th of March, the Chancellor of the Exchequer announced to the House of Commons that it had been determined to remit the repayment by the Indian Government of the loan of 2,000,000*l.* advanced in 1879, and to make a further grant of 3,000,000*l.*, in six annual instalments, the first being made in the current year 1880-81.

3. The Bill necessary to legalise the remission of the Advance Loan was not passed by the 31st of March; but I have not thought it necessary, in the revision of the Estimates of the Home Treasury, to include in the expenditure of 1880-81 the repayment of the sum of 200,000*l.* which was due this year.

4. The proposals of Her Majesty's Government have been accepted by the House of Commons, after it had been explained that the whole of the five millions sterling will be devoted to the repayment of debt in England. Of this amount, two millions will be absorbed in cancelling the Advance Loan, and the instalment or instalments received by the 1st of November next will be used to repay the bonds falling due on that date.

5. Inasmuch as the whole of the charges of the war have been, or will be, brought to account as Expenditure, it is necessary to bring to account as revenue the amount of the contribution by Her Majesty's Government. Strictly, it appears to me that the several sums should be credited as revenue from time to time when received; but, considering the intention of Her Majesty's Government, in making the grant, to relieve the finances of India of the heavy burden now falling on them, it appears to me that the spirit of the proposal will be more fully met if the whole sum is now brought to account as revenue, and the portion unpaid is entered under Debt as an amount recoverable from Her Majesty's Government in future years, in aid of the expense of the Afghan war. The subsequent receipts will then be credited under the head of Debt, without interfering with the surplus or deficit of the year.

6. Although it is impossible at present to foresee the exact amount of war expenditure which will be incurred in the year 1881-82, yet it appears to me that, for the purpose of the Estimates, the best plan will be to bring to account as revenue in 1881-82 a sum equal to the estimated expenditure on war in that year, namely, 2,000,000*l.*, as stated in your telegram of the 8th of March. In that case, by crediting as revenue in the estimates of 1880-81 a sum of 3,000,000*l*, the whole grant from Her Majesty's Government will have been set off against the expenditure of the operations now about to be brought to a close, in the manner best calculated to eliminate from the Accounts of 1881-82 and subsequent years all disturbance arising from that expenditure.

7. *With this view, I addressed to your Excellency on the 16th of March the following telegram : —"Parliament accepts proposed war contribution, namely, remitting advance loan, and payment of 3,000,000*l.* in six annual instalments, all devoted to reduction of debt in England. You may credit revenue with 5,000,000*l.* in 1880-81 and 1881-82 in proportions most convenient. To avoid complicating future accounts with war transactions, I suggest in 1881-82 amount equal to estimated war expenditure of that year, say two millions, and the difference, say three millions, in 1880-81. After 1881-82 all receipts will be under Debt."

*NOTE.—The manner in which it was ultimately decided to distribute the sum of 5,000,000*l.* between the years 1880-81 and 1881-82 is explained in paragraphs 19 and 70-71 of the Financial Statement for the current year.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

No 279.—His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following despatch from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India :—

MILITARY, INDIA OFFICE,
No. 112. London, 14th April 1881.

To His Excellency the Most Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,

PARA. 1.—I have given very careful consideration to the proposals for a revised scale of pensions for the Indian Medical Service contained in your financial letter of the 12th October 1880, No. 335, and on a full review of all the circumstances, I have determined to sanction, with some slight exceptions, the proposals you have made.

2. I am unable, however, to allow longer periods of leave of absence to count as service for pension than those at present admitted; and I do not consider it would be expedient to give higher rates of pensions to medical officers of 20 and 26 years' service who retire on account of wounds or ill-health contracted in the service, than are granted to officers who, after a similar period of service, retire in ordinary course.

3. It has not been usual in any branch of the service to give higher pensions to officers entitled to pension merely because they retired on account of wounds or ill health, and I see objections to altering the system in the manner proposed. Officers who break down in the service before they are entitled to pension receive the half pay of their relative rank, and officers so severely wounded as to entail the loss of a limb receive the wound pension of their relative rank in addition to pay or pension, and this appears to me to be sufficient.

4. I also consider that the third scale of pension may properly be given after 25 years' service instead of after 26 years.

5. In accordance with these reviews, therefore, the following will be the scale of pensions for the Indian Medical Service, with effect from the 1st January 1881 :—

After 17 years' service, including 1½ years' leave and furlough, 292*l.*

After 20 years' service, including two years' leave and furlough, 365*l.*

After 25 years' service, including three years' leave and furlough, 500*l.*

After 30 years' service, including four years' leave and furlough, 700*l.*

6. Those officers who serve five years as Surgeon-General or Deputy Surgeon-General will receive on retirement extra pensions of 350*l.* and 250*l.* a year respectively, six months' leave on medical certificate, or four months on private affairs being allowed to count as part of this service of five years. A good service pension granted to a medical officer will lapse on his obtaining the additional pension allowed to a Deputy Surgeon-General or Surgeon-General.

7. Medical officers not entitled to pension, but who, at the expiration of two years' leave of absence on medical certificate, are unfit to return to duty, will be placed on temporary or permanent half pay, after examination by the Medical Board at the India Office. The half pay granted in such a case will be the British rate of half pay of the relative rank held by the officer. The period passed on half pay will in no case be reckoned as service in calculating claims for promotion or to pension on retirement.

8. With the liberal rates of pension now introduced, I do not consider that it will be necessary to give any higher rate than that to which they may be entitled, to medical officers below the rank of Deputy Surgeon-General, who may be retired on attaining the age of 55 years, under the provisions of Article 8 of the Royal Warrant of the 16th November 1880. An officer now in the service, who is so retired, may, if he pleases, elect to receive pension under the previous Regulations.

9. You will have the goodness to publish this despatch in the General Orders of your Government.

4. As regards your capital account, we observe that there were received during the year to credit of the various works—

	Rs.	A.	P.
From the revenue accounts of Parts I, II, III, IV and VI as contributions for new works	4,21,581	2	2
From the revenue accounts of Parts I and IV as contributions for renewals	85,555	2	4
Total ...	5,07,136	4	6
The expenditure on works amounted during the year to	6,19,589	1	9
The unspent balance at the close of the year on account of works under construction was	2,38,550	4	11
The unspent balance on account of completed works on the same date was	36.729	10	0
Total	2 75,279	14	11
The overdrawals on account of completed works were	1,67,835	11	6
Ditto ditto works under construction ...	82.681	13	10
Ditto ditto Stock	19,455	2	11
Total ...	2,69,972	12	3

The cost of the works on account of which these overdrawals have occurred is for the most part, as sanctioned by Government, to be met either from loans which have not yet been raised, or from the sale-proceeds of surplus land which it has not been considered advisable for the present to sell. In this latter case a loan of Rs. 1,60,000 has, with the sanction of Government, been taken from Part IV to enable the work to be carried on. This loan will be repaid when the land is sold. The overdrawal on account of stock calls for no remark, and the few remaining items have been reported to Government, and sanction has been asked to meet these excesses from the savings on completed works.

5. During the year additions have been made to your Block account to the extent of Rs. 37,85,026-5-9. On the other hand your Block account has been reduced by Rs. 32,725-0-5, the difference in the value of six worn out steam-cranes which have been converted into hand-cranes, and Rs. 8,000 the value of the River Police Hulk Star which had become worn out and been sold. On the 31st March last the value of your block as shown in your accounts was Rs. 1,13,54,086-1-1. Besides this amount, Rs. 6,97,407-8-2 had been expended on works which, at the close of 1880-81, were still under construction.

6. The amount by which the loan from Government has been reduced during the year is Rs. 86,784-13, and the balance to be repaid was on the 31st March 1881 Rs. 52,53,563-14, besides the fixed loan of Rs. 17,65,000 which is not repayable.

7. The amount shown in your capital account as contributed from Revenue for new works and renewals up to the 31st March 1881 is Rs. 39,96,290-4-7. This sum is exclusive of Rs. 40,313 contributed from the revenue of Part IV towards the cost of the tug steamer, the value of which is shown in the Hooghly Bridge block, but is inclusive of the sum of Rs. 6,320-9-6 contributed from the revenue of the bridge. The balance on the 31st March 1881 in your capital account is Rs. 39,33,212-13-8, leaving a difference of Rs. 63,077-6-11 which is accounted for as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Value of a Hopper barge which was sunk. This amount was adjusted in the accounts of 1879-80	30,352	6	6
Difference in value of six worn out steam-cranes converted into hand-cranes (written off in the accounts of 1880-81)	32,725	0	5
Total ...	63,077	6	11

8. The sources from which the expenditure upon Block works under construction and Stock have been met are as follows:—

Contribution from Revenue for stock	60,000	0	0
Total ...	1,23,36,255	14	10
The value of your block on the 31st March 1881 is	1,13,54,086	1	1
Ditto of works under construction on the same date	6,97,407	8	2
Ditto of Stock ditto ditto	79,455	2	11
Total ...	1,21,30,948	12	2

ARCHÆOLOGICAL REMAINS AT BUDDHA GYA.

No. 249G, dated Bankipore, the 11th May 1881.

From—F. M. HALLIDAY, ESQ., Commissioner of the Patna Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

I HAVE the honour to report that the only discoveries of archæological remains during the year 1880-81 were made in Gya in connection with the excavations and repairs to the Temple at Buddha Gya, an account of which is given in the annexed letter, No. 39 of the 4th instant, from Mr. Beglar, the Executive Engineer, Buddha Gya Works.

2. No new discoveries have been made in the other districts of this Division.

No. 39, dated Buddha Gya, the 4th May 1881.

From—The Executive Engineer, Buddha Gya Works,
To—The Magistrate of Gya.

IN reply to your No. 573 of 28th ultimo, I have the honor to inform you that I am aware of no new archæological discoveries anywhere within the Gya district during the year 1880-81, except the discoveries at this place in the course of the repairs.

Of these, it is impossible in the course of a letter or an ordinary report to give more than the barest outline. I can only briefly indicate what must form the subject of a volume in contemplation.

Three sides of asoka railing which surrounded the tree, viz. on the south, west, and north, were found with the plinth partly intact and several pillars and fragments in situ. Three entrances to the enclosure were also discovered.

Five successive layers of floors were discovered, indicating five well marked and distinct epochs in the history of the temple.

Two of the corner topes mentioned by Hwen Thsang as at the corners of the enclosure which existed during his visit have been discovered.

Two of the great and famous temples mentioned by Hwen Thsang on the north and west sides have been discovered, viz. the temple of the uplifted eyes and the temple with brass figure of Buddha.

Two of the temples of Avalakiteswara, mentioned by Hwen Thsang as marking the limits north and south on the east of Vajrasan, have also been found, as also one of the stupas of Mara and the stupa of Brahma, and the one of the happy omens.

The Suffron stupa has also been discovered. The original throne of Asoka's period, together with the remains of his temple, have also been found, as also Buddha's promenade with its "Jewelled canopy."

The original position of the first Bodhi tree has also been discovered, as also the successive altered positions of succeeding trees, till it was finally hoisted up and perched on a height of 35 feet above its original site

The successive additions and alterations to the temple have been shown in a most lucid and exceedingly interesting manner by the successive exhumations of the portions added to it at each epoch of the history of the temple.

Besides these easily identifiable important features, many others of lesser importance, and a still greater number of unidentifiable monuments (temples and topes), have been exhumed, too numerous to be even enumerated, while to these must be added a body of sculptures in various stages of preservation or dilapidation numbering several thousand pieces, and a large number of inscriptions, some of great interest; inscribed clay seals and medallions, and other deposits by pious pilgrims, which were also discovered.

The discoveries continue each month adding to the numbers of important identifications of interesting monuments, of sculptures, and of inscriptions.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA,
The 23rd May 1881.

JOHN ELIOT,
for Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of India.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of April 1881.

GENERAL REMARKS.

THE total weight of traffic carried during the month stands at 3,13,305, against 2,61,668 maunds for the same month last year, being an increase of nearly 17 per cent. which, considering how very dull trade is generally, and in the case of traffic carried over this line in particular, is a result that can only be looked on as satisfactory.

INCREASES.

Ale ... ... Mds. 2,940

The short despatches of Commissariat beer early in the year account for this increase.

Food-grain ... ... Mds. 8,036

There has been a brisk demand for the common descriptions of rice during the month for shipment. The gross weights lifted being 1,30,889, against 1,22,853 maunds for the corresponding month of last year.

Gunny-bags ... ... Mds. 1,275

Hand-made gunnies continued to be manufactured and sent forward in large quantities.

From 1st January 1881 to 30th April 1881, 16,771 maunds have been carried in excess of the weight lifted for the same period of 1880.

Jute ... ... Mds. 10,695

This traffic is steadily keeping up, and will no doubt continue to do so until the Eastern Bengal Railway increased rate comes into force (1st June next) and forces it from the Rail to the River.

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 4,075

The stocks in the districts have, for some months past, been allowed to run low, and the traffic just now is stimulated by a desire to replenish before the rains set in, when carting such unwieldy packages as baled piece-goods into the district will become a matter of some difficulty.

Sugar ... ... Mds. 1,579

Advantage is no doubt being taken of the present low price of this article to stock the local markets. The result will probably be a falling off later on in the season.

All other goods ... ... Mds. 35,195

The total weight lifted under this head during the month stands at 71,724 maunds, nearly double that carried for the corresponding month last year.

Salt ... ... Mds. 7,000

The results anticipated in last month's report regarding this traffic are being realized and will, most likely, continue to be, until water communication is open.

DECREASES.

Railway material ... ... Mds. 14,028

The traffic carried under this head is of course abnormal. The reasons for the falling off have been explained in previous reports.

Tea ... ... Mds. 2,771

Want of rain has, for some time past, almost stopped manufacture in the Darjeeling district, and from enquiries made it appears that the quantity of tea made up to date is less than half last year's outturn for the same period.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 2,365

The early crop of the Rungpore district was almost totally destroyed by the violent hail-storm of the 4th March last.

Port Said Entrance—Experimental Buoy Lighted by Gas.

Information has been received from the Egyptian Government, that sanction has been given to the Suez Canal Company, to place, experimentally, a buoy lighted by gas at the entrance to Port Said:—

The light is a red light of the lowest order. It was exhibited on 11th May 1881, and will continue to be shown for fifty days from that date.

The buoy (Pintsch system) is placed at hectometer 31, a short distance off the extremity of the western breakwater, in a line with the outermost western light-vessel and the first of the western line of light-vessels showing red lights. It is thus an additional light on the line of red lights.

NOTIFICATION.

The 13th May 1881.—The following additions and amendments to the rules for the grant of leases for tea cultivation in the districts of Julpigoree and Darjeeling, which were published at page 1116 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 16th October 1878 and two subsequent issues, having been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, are notified for general information:—

(1.) Rule 11*A*.—The Deputy Commissioner shall at once send a copy of any order passed under rule 11 to the Conservator of Forests, in order that an estimate may be made by the Forest Department of the value of any forest trees standing on the land. The Conservator of Forests will depute an officer to examine the land, and make a detailed report suggesting the average rate per acre at which payment should be made for such trees. Such officer, in valuing the timber, shall have regard to its present market value on the spot, and to the local circumstances of the case, the accessibility of the grant, and the prospect of markets for timber becoming available during the currency of the lease. The Conservator will carefully examine the report, and forward it to the Deputy Commissioner with such remarks and alterations as he may think necessary. If the Deputy Commissioner, on receipt of the Conservator's decision, sees reason to object to the proposed rate per acre, he may refer the matter to the Commissioner, who shall take the orders of the Board of Revenue and of Government on any point on which he and the Conservator may eventually differ.

(2.) In rule 20, line 3, for the words "and to pay for all valuable forest trees as provided in clause 10 of the preliminary lease. He will also direct him to mark out" should be substituted "and to pay for forest trees the sum assessed under rule 11A. Payment for these may be made by instalments with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, which will only be given when the Board is fully satisfied of the good faith and solvency of the applicant. In such case the dates and amounts of the instalments shall be endorsed upon the lease, and the lessee must covenant that, in the event of his throwing up his lease, all outstanding instalments shall be forthwith recoverable from him under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880, whether the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not, but he shall have no further right to fell or remove timber from the grant. When granting the lease, the Deputy Commissioner will also direct the lessee to mark out," &c. (as in present rule.)

(3.) Clause 10 of the preliminary lease shall be altered to run: "Standing timber must be paid for at the average rate per acre intimated to the lessee by the Deputy Commissioner before possession is given under this lease, unless, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, payment by instalments has been allowed. In the latter case, payment must be made according to the schedule of instalments endorsed upon the lease. In the event of the lessee throwing up the lease while any instalments due to Government on account of timber are unpaid, the lessee hereby agrees that all such instalments shall forthwith become due and be recoverable from him under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880, whether all the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not. But he shall have no right of any kind over any timber on the grant, cut or uncut, after the date of his so throwing up the lease."

REPORT ON THE LUNATIC ASYLUMS IN BENGAL FOR 1880.

MEDICAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.—MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 25th May 1881.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on the Lunatic Asylums in Bengal for the year 1880.

Read again—

The Reports for previous years, with the orders of Government passed upon them.

The number of lunatics confined in the asylums of Bengal on 1st January 1880 was 888. The operation of the orders of the Government of India against the admission of harmless chronic cases, or of cases arising from the immediate effects of intemperance, is perceptible in the steady decrease in the asylum population since 1876. On the first day of each of the past five years the numbers in confinement were—1876, 1,147; 1877, 1,131; 1878, 1,077; 1879, 991; 1880, 888. At the close of the past year the number had been further reduced by 7 only. The number admitted and re-admitted was 216, while 114 were discharged and 109 died. The asylums are able to accommodate 1,015 persons (782 males and 233 females) at the rate of 50 superficial feet for each. The maximum number confined on any one night was 922 (715 males and 207 females). The number of males in the Cuttack Asylum was somewhat in excess of the scale: but this cannot be avoided, and it is explained that there was no real overcrowding, as harmless lunatics are allowed to sleep in the verandahs, which are not included in the estimate of available space.

2. The percentage of recoveries, calculated on the mean daily population, was 8·27 against 11·34 in 1879 and 17·6 the average of the ten previous years. It is obvious that, as greater care is exercised in the admission of cases, the probability of recovery after a short period of confinement must be reduced. The effect of the orders against the commitment of persons whose minds have been temporarily affected by the use of ganja, is particularly marked in this direction.

3. The following statistics of the number of criminal lunatics in confinement in 1880, and the ten previous years, are of interest:—

The increase in the number has been steadily maintained from 160 on 31st December 1870 to 295 on 31st December 1880. Certain circumstances, however, must be taken into consideration in estimating the actual continuity of the increase. On the one hand it was the custom of Government in the earlier years to release prisoners who had passed long periods without any sign of insanity. On the other hand, many criminal lunatics have in the later years been transferred to jails who, under the previous practice, would have remained in the asylums. Dr. Payne also refers to unnecessary admissions caused by the action of Magistrates who committed to the asylums, as unfit to make their defence, persons charged with the commission of crime under the passing delirium of intoxication, who, on their admission, were at once returned as fit to take their trial. These cases, however, it is to be remarked, would not affect the numbers remaining in confinement at the close of the year. The last two years show a considerable number (15 and 13 respectively as against 8, 7 and 6 in the three previous years) re-admitted after trial. These, however, are bonâ fide additions to the number of criminal lunatics actually in confinement. On the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor is inclined to look upon the progressive increase as actual, and, having regard to the increase in the short period of 10 years, he thinks it doubtful whether we have yet reached the limit. Dr. Payne proposes to endeavour to collect information regarding the crimes charged against the lunatics committed to asylums during the past few years. The Lieutenant-Governor will await this statement with interest.

4. The total number of persons treated for insanity during the year was 1,104. For acute mania 188 were treated against 239 in 1879, with 15·42 per cent of recoveries against 18·02. These figures point to increased caution in the commitment of persons to asylums. It is particularly noteworthy that among the ganja-smokers admitted there has been a marked decrease in the number of cases of temporary intoxication. Of 89 persons of this class admitted in 1878, no less than 61 recovered; 41 recovered out of 58 admitted in 1879, while in 1880 only 31 out of 65 cases admitted resulted in recovery. The number of cases of chronic mania treated was 450 against 459 in 1879, and the percentage of recoveries was 3·33 compared with 5·22. Melancholia, a peculiarly intractable form of insanity, shows only 2 recoveries out of 81 cases treated. Acute dementia shows 6·34 per cent of recoveries against 1·75 in 1879, and chronic dementia 3·06 per cent against 1·43. Dr. Payne justly points out that general statistics of the results of treatment in all the cases under observation at a number of different asylums cannot be satisfactory. Differences of nomenclature, and the combination of all cases, new and old, in one total, render the figures quite unreliable for scientific purposes. It would be more satisfactory to know the results of new cases only under the different heads in each asylum separately.

5. There were 516 persons under treatment in hospital for sickness during the year. Of these, 485 were admitted during the year, and 31 were in hospital when the year began. The number of cases treated was 784 in 1880 and 543 in 1879. The daily average number under treatment in hospital was 40·6 in 1880 against 38·6 in 1879 and 60 in 1878. The daily average number of out-patients was 79. The statistics of out-patients have only been recorded since the orders of Government on the report for 1879 were issued. As they include cases of persons who have to be forcibly fed, convalescents, and even habitual idlers, it will be sufficient if they are given separately and not amalgamated with the hospital returns. Of the principal diseases, anæmia shows a decrease from 60 to 47 cases, and fevers a decrease from 169 to 123. In diarrhœa and dysentery, on the other hand, the numbers increased from 58 and 91 to 71 and 107 respectively, and phthisis shows 34 against 24. The decrease in anæmia occurred at the Patna Asylum, where only 24 cases were treated against 40 in 1879. In fevers, Berhampore shows a large decrease from 70 to 31, and Cuttack shows 11 only against 23. Dullunda is the only asylum which shows an increase under this head, 14 cases being recorded against 2 in 1879. In diarrhœa, Dullunda and Dacca show a decrease, and Patna and Berhampore an increase from 24 and 8 to 36 and 20 respectively. Patna also shows an increase in dysentery from 36 to 49, and in phthisis from 3 to 12. There were 14 cases of phthisis in Dullunda against 16 in 1879. While Patna Asylum shows this large increase under diarrhœa, dysentery and phthisis, it is remarkable that in the Patna Jail there was a decrease in the first two complaints, while phthisis was altogether absent. The first circumstance seems to point to some fault in the water-supply at the asylum, and this will be enquired into. At Berhampore the increase in diarrhœa and dysentery was common to both jail and asylum; and here also the water-supply requires attention. It is satisfactory to learn that no injuries were inflicted by keepers during the year.

6. Dr. Payne submits a very thorough and interesting examination of the statistics of mortality in the different asylums during the year. The death-rate per cent fell from 14·7 in 1879 to 12·3 in 1880. The average of the ten previous years was 11·5. There was a decrease in the number of deaths from 42 to 38 at Dullunda, from 20 to 10 at Dacca, and from 22 to 18 at Berhampore, while there was a rise from 35 to 42 at Patna and from 3 to 4 at Cuttack. In the report for 1879, allusion was made to the influence of the distribution of the lunatics from the abandoned asylum of Hazaribagh on the mortality at the other asylums. The disease conveyed from this asylum was still fatal during 1880. Of the 163 persons received from Hazaribagh, 25 died in the nine months of 1879 following their transfer, and 22 died in 1880. Of the 22 who died in 1880, it is reported that only one was in good health on admission. In estimating the significance of the mortality at the different asylums, it is important to bear in mind the influence of newly admitted cases. It is established that mortality is much greater among newly admitted patients than among old residents. In Dullunda the percentages were 21 and 12 respectively, in Patna 23 and 12, and in Dacca 14 and 2½. As the number of persons admitted to Dullunda and Patna is much larger than the number admitted to any other asylum, a greater number of deaths is to be expected. It is quite clear that diet had no connection with the mortality. In Dullunda meat rations were introduced with no effect whatever on sickness. In Patna, where the scale was unaltered, mortality increased. In Dacca, where one-third of the animal food was replaced by vegetables, the mortality decreased. The condition of the water-supply at Patna and Berhampore will be enquired into under the Surgeon-General's orders. Beyond this no evidence can be discovered of special unhealthiness in the local conditions at any asylum. A detailed examination of the deaths under the different heads leaves no doubt that the mortality was largely affected by importation of disease from outside. Of 6 persons who died from ague and its consequences, 3 were new admissions. From anæmia, anasarca, debility and dropsy, 14 died in 1880 against 16 in 1879. Of the 14, just half were new admissions. Of 3 persons who died from remittent fever, 2 were new-comers who were admitted into hospital on arrival. There were 23 recorded deaths from phthisis against 21 in 1879. At Dullunda there occurred 11, at Dacca 1, at Patna 9, at Cuttack 2. Of the 11 who died at Dullunda 3 were new-comers, 4 were from Hazaribagh where phthisis had markedly developed before the asylum was closed, and 4 were chronic invalids. Only one case could be shown to have originated locally. Of the 9 who died at Patna, 5 were from Hazaribagh, and all were noted as received in weak condition. Of the two who died at Cuttack, one had been recently admitted. In addition to these circumstances, Dr. Payne shows that, as the post-mortem examinations are more regularly made, the Asylum authorities are enabled to determine as phthisis a larger and larger number of cases which, had examination not been held, might have been ascribed to other causes. Post-mortem examinations are now made in every case in which no objection is raised by the relatives of the deceased lunatic. It is certain that, under this practice, the number of phthisis cases will, as a rule, appear large in comparison with that reported in former years, while there will probably be a corresponding reduction under the heads of anæmia and debility. Thus while the number of deaths recorded under phthisis at Patna rose from 2 to 9, the number recorded under debility fell from 5 to 2. On the whole, it seems quite clear that, while lunatics generally are known to be liable to phthisis, there is no reason to believe that the condition of any of the Bengal asylums contribute specially to the promotion of this disease.

7. The total expenditure on the asylums during the year was Rs. 81,412-6-11 with a daily average of 881·74 inmates. The net expenditure, after deduction of Rs. 1,524-12-8, realized from friends of patients, and Rs. 7,486-13-3, the actual profit on manufactures, was Rs. 72,400-13. In 1879 the gross expenditure, with a daily average of 889·96, was Rs. 96,648-9-2, and the net expenditure Rs. 85,319-7-7. It is to be observed, however, that the gross figures include the value of articles received from asylum manufactures and consumed in the asylum. This has been differently calculated in the two years. In 1879 it was taken as the cost price of the actuals plus the value added to them in the process of manufacture. In accordance, however, with the orders issued on the report for 1879, the value is now taken to be the cost price only. Thus the gross cost in 1879 appears unduly large. It includes Rs. 12,375 on account of goods consumed in the asylums, while the figure for 1880 includes Rs. 10,918-11-1 only. The gross average cost is shown as Rs. 92-5-3 in 1880 against Rs 108-9-6 in 1879: the net cost was Rs. 82-1-8 against Rs. 95-15-8.

8. The average cost on account of establishment was Rs. 48-4-10 against Rs. 51-0-3 in 1879. The reduction was chiefly due to the circumstance that the Superintendent's salary was charged throughout the year at the reduced rate of Rs. 273 per mensem, instead of partly at that rate, and partly at the rate of Rs. 609 drawn by Dr. Payne before he became Surgeon-General. The cost of establishment in each asylum was—

	Superintendence.	Establishment proper.	Total.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Dullunda	31 14 6	35 1 9	67 0 3
Dacca	21 2 8	24 0 7	45 3 3
Patna	19 9 0	17 9 8	37 2 8
Cuttack	40 15 0	22 10 11	63 9 11
Berhampore	21 3 8	18 4 3	39 8 0

The average cost of superintendence is high in Dullunda owing to the comparatively high salary of the Deputy Superintendent, and in Cuttack owing to the small number of patients. The Surgeon-General remarks that the excess in establishment charges proper at Dullunda and Dacca is due to the higher rates of wages ruling at those places. This circumstance, however, does not altogether explain the excess. Allusion has been made in previous Resolutions to the inequalities in the strength of establishment in different asylums, and there is still room for remark on this point. The excess cost at Dacca is due rather to apparently undue multiplication of paid servants than to high wages. Except in the wages of sweepers there is little difference between the rates at Patna and those at Dacca. In Dullunda there would appear to be some want of economy under both heads, the strength of the establishment being perhaps greater, and the rates of wages higher, than is necessary. In Patna 3 jemadars on Rs. 12 each can look after 230 patients. In Dacca 6 (5 on Rs. 12 and 1 on Rs. 6) are employed to look after 198 patients, and in Dullunda 5 (1 on Rs. 20, 2 on Rs. 15, and 2 on Rs. 10) are employed to look after 215. In Patna there are 23 keepers, in Dullunda 26, in Dacca 28. In Patna eight sweepers are found sufficient; in Dacca there are 10 and in Dullunda there are 17. So long as such differences exist in the proportionate strength of the establishment employed, the cost at Dullunda and Dacca will largely exceed that at Patna, apart altogether from the question of wages.

9. The cost of diet in the asylums during the past three years was—

	1878. Rs.	1879. Rs.	1880. Rs.
Dullunda	56	47	45
Dacca	65	61	42
Patna	55	45	27
Cuttack	36	27	22
Berhampore	44	44	34

The progressive decrease is satisfactory. It must be observed, however, that the apparent cost in 1878 and 1879 was enhanced by the practice of showing the full market value of articles of diet prepared in the asylum, instead of showing the cost price of the raw materials only. The change in practice has had a considerable effect in the apparent reductions shown against Dacca and Patna in 1880. In Dullunda this cause was in great measure counteracted by the increase in the use of meat. The cost of diet at Dacca and Berhampore appears to be still unduly high.

10. The new forms which have recently been sanctioned by the Government of India will show charges on account of work done by the Public Works Department, rates and taxes on the buildings, stationery, and European medicines. If these are taken into account, the gross average cost of maintaining each patient in 1880 is raised from Rs. 92-5-3 to Rs. 102-1-5. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with Dr. Payne in thinking that work done for buildings exclusively used for manufactures should be debited to the manufacturing account.

11. There was some falling off in the quantity of manufactured articles disposed of to the public. The value of the goods sold was Rs. 19,285 against Rs. 26,275 in 1879. The value of articles made over for asylum use was Rs. 10,918, against Rs. 12,375, the value admitted in 1879. The net profits were Rs. 7,486, against Rs. 9,578, the amount shown in favour of the previous year. The change in the practice of giving credit for goods consumed in the asylum caused apparent inequalities in the profits earned. Thus Dullunda and Patna, which consumed a large quantity of their own manufactures, and took credit only for the cost of the raw material, show a small profit. Dacca produced a smaller quantity, but it sold the greater part of it, and, getting the market value, it shows a much larger profit.

12. There were 26 admissions and re-admissions to the European Insane Asylum at Bhowanipore. Two of the new patients were from the army, one was a military pensioner, and the remainder came from the civil and seafaring classes. The total number treated was 46 against 40 in the previous year. Six were discharged cured, three were made over to the Military authorities, one was despatched to Europe under the Merchant Shipping Act, ten were improved and transferred to the care of their friends, and two died. There remained 24 at the close of the year. Of the two deaths, one resulted from organic disease of the brain, and the other from disease of the heart. The patients were both admitted in a hopeless condition. The general health of the asylum was good. The total expenditure during the year was Rs. 20,475 against Rs. 22,095. Here, as at Dullunda, the decrease in the salary of the Superintendent made a large reduction in the total cost. The average cost of dieting the patients ranged from Rs. 1-8-6 for first class, and 6 annas for third class, paying patients to 4 annas 5 pies for pauper patients. The amount recovered from the friends of the patients was Rs. 12,341. The average cost of maintenance, after deduction of this amount, was Rs. 370.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor is gratified to find that the Superintendents bear unanimous testimony to the good conduct of the subordinate officers and to their kind treatment of the lunatics, European and Native. This coincides with what Sir Ashley Eden has himself observed on his visits to the different asylums. The management of the asylums by the superior officers has been satisfactory, and the thanks of Government are due to Dr. Payne for his efficient control of the Department, and for the excellent report in which he has reviewed the administration of the year.

The Reports for 1879, and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

The returns for the past year compared with those for 1879 show a slight increase of 528 in the total number of offences reported in the Town and Suburbs, the increase being 31 cases in the Town and 497 in the Suburbs. Compared with the returns for the two years 1878 and 1877, there was a decrease of 3,646 and 2,425 cases respectively. The following statement shows the number of cognizable and non-cognizable cases in the Town and Suburbs together for the past four years:—

		1877.	1878.	1879.	1880.
Cognizable	Penal Code ...	6,260	6,192	5,537	4,644
	Miscellaneous ...	13,266	18,074	13,112	14,330
Non-cognizable	Penal Code ...	6,759	8,233	7,843	7,688
	Miscellaneous ...	18,301	13,308	15,141	15,499
	Total ...	44,586	45,807	41,633	42,161

These figures show a marked and satisfactory decrease in the number of cognizable offences under the Penal Code as compared with the returns of the previous three years, and a slight decrease also in the number of non-cognizable offences under the Penal Code as compared with the returns of 1878 and 1879. In the number of offences under each of the heads of hurt by dangerous weapons, house-breaking, theft, criminal breach of trust, and receiving stolen property, there was a considerable decrease; while the increase in miscellaneous offences not coming under the Penal Code was mainly due to the greater number of cases under the Port Acts and the law for the prevention of cruelty to animals. Out of 41,522 persons arrested or summoned during the year, 32,746 or 78·86 per cent. were convicted as compared with 79·71 per cent. in 1879; and of 4,437 persons arrested in cognizable cases under the Penal Code, 2,751 or 62 per cent. were convicted against 64 per cent. in the previous year. Compared with the returns of 1879, convictions in the town for serious offences against the person fell from 144 to 113, and for serious offences against both person and property from 77 to 56; the decrease in each case in the number of convictions being somewhat greater than in proportion to the decrease in the number of offences. Of minor offences against the person there were 213 cases against 270 in 1879, and of minor offences against property 2,113 against 2,590 in the preceding year. Notwithstanding the slight increase in the number of reported offences in the Town, there was a decrease of 159 in the number of false cases, and for the Town and Suburbs together the percentage of false to true cases was only 1·84 as compared with 2·23 in 1879. In 71 cases, in which false complaints were made in the town, the facts showed malice on the part of the complainants, and the parties were prosecuted, with the result that the complainants in two of the cases were imprisoned, and in 69 cases fined, compensation being awarded to the injured persons in 56 cases. Though there was a decrease in the number of false complaints in Calcutta, the proportion of such cases in the Suburbs is still much below that in the Town. The total amount of property stolen in the Town and Suburbs was Rs. 1,34,496, of which Rs. 83,849 was recovered; and in both the Town and Suburbs there was a satisfactory decrease in the number of cases in which property was stolen. There has been a great decrease during the past few years in the number of offences committed by Europeans and Eurasians in Calcutta, the total number of such persons convicted under the Penal Code having fallen from 881 in 1877 and 884 in 1878 to 709 in 1879 and 532 in 1880; out of 532 convictions of Europeans and Eurasians, 100 were for assault and 235 for committing public nuisances.

2. Cognizable crime in the Town.—The number of true cognizable cases in the Town was 15,399 against 14,511 in 1879 and 19,695 in 1878. Comparing the number of offences of each class with the number in 1879, there was a decrease under every head except miscellaneous offences, and offences against special and local laws. In cases of hurt by dangerous weapons there was a decrease of 29 cases, of robbery 3 cases, house-breaking 20 cases, hurt 58 cases, theft 344 cases, criminal breach of trust 74 cases, and street offences 320 cases; while there was an increase of 4 cases of homicide, 7 of grievous hurt, [illegible] administering drugs, 94 against the Railway Acts, 107 against the [illegible] Carriage Act, and 815 against the Act for the prevention of cruelty to [illegible]. Six cases of murder occurred in 1880, against four in 1879 and five in [illegible]. In three out of the six cases the murderers were arrested and convicted [illegible] capital sentence was carried out. In one of the three cases in which convictions were obtained the murderer, a native of Manilla, killed three women and [illegible] within a few minutes. In another case the murderer killed his [illegible] a girl of 16 years of age, by hacking her to pieces with a [illegible] dao in a public street in the native portion of the town; it was [illegible] at the time, and the thoroughfare was crowded, but none of the [illegible] by had the courage or the will to interfere while the murderer was striking the 37 blows that the wounds showed were struck at his victim. There were three cases of attempt at murder and three of culpable homicide not amounting to murder, but in none of the cases was there any feature calling for notice. There were 27 cases of grievous hurt against 20 in 1879 and 28 in 1878, and out of 34 persons arrested in connection with the offences, 20 were convicted and 2 were under trial at the close of the year. In three out of the four cases of administering stupefying drugs the victims were women of the town, and the accused the men who were visiting them; in the fourth case the victim was a man and the supposed poisoner was his mistress. In only one of the cases were the accused convicted before the close of the year, but one of the other cases was then still under enquiry. There were only 27 cases of hurt by dangerous weapons as compared with 56 in 1879. There were 114 true cases of burglary and lurking house-trespass against 136 in 1879 and 115 in 1878; the cases detected were 56 against 79 and 56 respectively in 1879 and 1878, and the convictions were 62 against 104 and 73; the amount of property stolen was Rs. 8,521, of which Rs 3,809 was recovered. The total number of houses entered by thieves during the year was 99, of which 56 were mud and mat huts. Seventy-one of the houses were entered by night and twenty-eight by day, and considering the general insecurity of houses in this country, and the temptation offered to thieves by native shop-keepers in Calcutta, the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Commissioner of Police that property in the Town cannot be considered as insufficiently protected by the Police. Half the dealers and merchants in the bazars and native quarters of the town habitually shut up their shops and go away for the night, trusting only to a cheap padlock and the vigilance of the police. The number of thefts was 1,635 against 1,979 in the previous year and 2,231 in 1878, and 873 or rather more than half the total number of cases were detected; out of Rs. 1,02,987, the total value of the property stolen, Rs. 66,854 or 64·9 per cent. was recovered. In 118 out of the 164 cases of theft on the river the police were successful in recovering the whole or a portion of the property stolen, and convictions were obtained against 161 out of the 202 persons arrested on account of these thefts. It is satisfactory to learn that thefts by cart-drivers, which were formerly very common, have entirely ceased since the early part of last year.

3. The powers of the police appear to have been used with discretion in the institution and conduct of prosecutions for miscellaneous cognizable offences during the past year. In accordance with the orders of Government, prosecutions on the general charge of bad livelihood are now only resorted to in very exceptional cases when notorious thieves have been arrested for lurking about without any ostensible means of livelihood; there were only two such prosecutions in the year under review as compared with 10 in 1879. There were 124 prosecutions under the Gambling Act against an average of 146 in the previous five years, and in connection with these cases 533 persons were arrested, of whom 477 were convicted. In 811 cases persons were stopped in the street by the police on suspicion of being in possession of stolen goods, and in considerably more than half the number of cases the suspicions were well founded; in 205 cases the owners were found and charges of theft were instituted, while in 291 other cases the property was confiscated either because the rightful owners could not be found, or, when found, declined to prosecute. Out of 803 persons prosecuted for offences under the Stage Carriage Act, 764 were convicted and 39 acquitted. The number of persons arrested for street offences under the Police Act fell from 8,895 in 1878 and 4,704 in 1879 to 3,550 in 1880, of whom 3,483 were convicted. In a city like Calcutta the police have a very difficult task to perform in maintaining order and enforcing the laws regarding sanitation and conservancy without making unnecessary arrests, and the Lieutenant-Governor gladly acknowledges the discretion with which the duty has been performed. In considerably more than eight thousand prosecutions for street offences in the past two years, only 116 persons were discharged by the Magistrates. The officers of the Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals were during the past year sworn in as constables, so as to give them the power of arrest in cases of offences under Act I (B. C.) of 1869; 3,842 persons were convicted under the Act against 2,749 in 1879, only 45 out of the whole number of persons brought before the Magistrate being acquitted.

4. Cognizable Crime in the Suburbs.—The number of true cognizable cases was 2,812 against 3,227 in 1879 and 3,696 in 1878. There was an increase of three cases in the number of offences against the State and public tranquillity, and the number of serious offences against the person was the same as in 1879, although 26 less than in 1878. In every other class of cognizable crime there was a satisfactory decrease, the decrease being greatest in minor offences against property, which fell from 1,028 in 1878 and 1,008 in 1879 to 838 in 1880. There were four cases of murder in the Suburbs during the year, the number being the same as in 1879. In two of the cases the murderers were robbers who broke into the houses of their victims, and in neither of these cases were any of the culprits detected; in the third case one of a party of Madrassee labourers killed two of his comrades without having any apparent motive, and was sentenced to transportation for life; and the fourth case was that of a seaman George Nairns, who was executed for the murder of a native constable. There was only one case of attempt at murder, and in that the prisoner was sentenced to transportation for life. Convictions were obtained in 17 out of 19 cases of grievous hurt, the number of persons convicted being 19. There were fewer cases of burglary and house-trespass than in any previous year, the total number being only 83 as compared with an average of 122 in each of the previous four years; the ratios of cases detected and persons convicted to the total number of cases and persons arrested were also satisfactory; the number of houses broken into was 68, of which only 18 were brick-built. In thefts as well as in burglaries there was a great decrease in comparison with previous years, the number of cases being 583 against 776 in 1878 and 730 in 1879; the amount of property stolen was Rs. 12,754, and of this Rs. 9,293 was recovered.

5. Sixty-seven persons committed suicide against 59 in 1879 and 60 in 1878. Of the 67 cases, 47 were in the Town, 19 in the Suburbs and 1 on the river; 27 of those who destroyed themselves were men and 40 women. In 28 of the cases death was caused by hanging, in 24 cases by opium-poisoning, in 5 cases by arsenic; and in 5 cases by drowning. Of 214 accidental deaths, 11 were caused by snake-bite, 89 by drowning, 23 by falls from trees, buildings, &c., and 18 by persons being run over in the street. Fourteen European seamen were drowned in the river as compared with 15 in 1879, 8 in 1878, and 41 in 1877, and of those drowned four appear to owe their deaths to drunkenness. Six cargo boats and two passenger boats are reported to have sunk owing to a collision with the Hooghly Bridge, but no lives were lost in these accidents. Inquests were held by the Coroner in 183 cases during the past year against 198 in the previous year. There were only two fires in the Town and eleven in the Suburbs during the year 1880, and at all of these the Calcutta Fire Brigade was in attendance. Three brick buildings, nine tiled huts, and ten thatched huts were destroyed, and the total loss of property was estimated at about Rs. 20,000. The only fires of any magnitude were at some jute godowns in Bow Bazar-street and at the Garden Reach Cotton Mills.

6. Arms Act (XI of 1878).—The trade in sporting guns and revolvers revived somewhat during the past year, and nearly twice as large a quantity of shot was imported as in the previous year; the amount of gunpowder imported was, however, less than half that imported in 1879. The following statement shows the imports of the past four years:—

Years.	Sporting rifles.	Sporting guns.	Pistols and revolvers.	Gunpowder.	Shot.
	No.	No.	No.	lb.	Bags.
1877	180	716	438	84,560	18,804
1878	174	365	308	80,000	11,024
1879	23	69	341	88,050	10,946
1880	116	155	356	45,200	20,040

The returns of arms and ammunition passed out of Calcutta under passes show a considerable decrease in the amount of ammunition transported for use in the Lower Provinces, and a large increase in the amount transported to the North-Western Provinces. There was an increase also in the quantity of gunpowder and caps, but a decrease in cartridges and bullets transported to the Assam frontier districts. The number of rifles and pistols passed out of Calcutta was quite insignificant. Eight hundred and fifty-six licenses under the Arms Act were granted by the Commissioner of Police during the past year as compared with 563 in 1879. Fifteen prosecutions were instituted under the Act in the Town and three in the Suburbs, but only one case, which was undertaken in concert with officers of the Cachar Police, was of any importance. In that case a sircar, in the employ of the principal native dealer in Calcutta, procured without license a large quantity of arms and ammunition for certain agents who had come down from Cachar. It is through the agency of people who do not conform to the provisions of the law and trade without licenses that arms and ammunition are obtained by the wild tribes beyond the frontier, and it is satisfactory to know that the sircar and four others who were concerned in the illicit traffic were convicted and imprisoned. The increase in the number of licenses applied for and granted is a sign that the law is now fairly understood, and that very little difficulty is experienced in complying with its provisions by those who have no unlawful object or trade to conceal.

7. Only 10 persons were declared vagrants during the year, against 18 in 1879 and 40 in 1878. The total number of vagrants in the workhouse, including two who remained from the preceding year, was 12; of these four were discharged on obtaining employment, four were released although no employment could be found for them, three were deported to London, and one remained in the workhouse at the close of the year. Besides these, three persons, who had formerly held respectable positions, were deported under agreements, in which they bound themselves not to return to India for five years. The cost of working the Act in Calcutta was Rs. 2,234-8.

8. Notwithstanding the increase made in 1879 in the pay of native constables in the Town and Suburbs, the number of Bengalis who enlist in the force is still very small. Out of 1,309 native constables in the Town police, only 118 are Bengalis, the rest being up-country men; and out of 632 native constables in the Suburbs, only 85 are Bengalis. Bengalis would be at once employed if they could be found, but, except natives of Furreedpore, very few, it is stated, come forward who are at all fitted for the duties of watch and ward. During the year 19 members of the force were punished judicially, 14 men being imprisoned and 5 fined. Six of those punished were native officers, of whom one was convicted of bribery, two of extortion, two of criminal misappropriation, and one of neglect of duty. Of the 13 constables convicted, three were punished for bribery, four for theft, three for extortion, and three for causing hurt. Two inspectors, two European constables, and 67 native subordinate officers and men were dismissed the force during the year; and three inspectors, 14 European constables, and 18 native officers and constables were punished by reduction to lower grades. The number of native constables fined was 43 as compared with 14 in 1879, 111 in 1878, and 556 in 1877.

9. The total cost of the Town Police force, including the salaries of the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner, was Rs. 4,28,472, of which Rs. 2,94,229 was paid by the Municipality and Rs. 1,34,243 by Government. Against this latter sum, however, must be set off the fines and fees realized during the year, which amounted to Rs. 39,091. The cost of the Suburban force was Rs. 1,50,119, towards which the Municipality contributed Rs. 72,520, and Government Rs. 77,599. Against the latter sum Rs. 5,079 was realized from fees and fines. The cost of the River Police was Rs. 30,007, of which Rs. 22,505 was paid by the Port Commissioner and Rs. 7,501 by Government. The cost of each of the three forces was slightly less than in 1879.

10. Courts of the Presidency Magistrates.—The number of cognizable cases brought before the Chief Presidency Magistrate was 6,655, of which 6,024 were instituted by the police, and 631 were preferred direct to the Magistrate. In the Court of the Magistrate of the Northern Division 5,385 cognizable cases were instituted—4,833 by the police and 552 direct. Out of 5,425 non-cognizable cases instituted during the year in the two courts, 2,656 were before the Chief Magistrate and 2,769 before the Magistrate of the Northern Division. The number of persons convicted in the cognizable cases tried by the two Courts during the year was 15,473, and in non-cognizable cases 6,095. Against these 21,568 convictions, the total number of appeals preferred to the High Court during the year was nine, of which seven were rejected, the sentences in the other two cases being either modified or reversed. The total number of cases in which the punishment of whipping was inflicted by the Presidency Magistrates was 211, the punishment being in 123 cases for a first offence, and in 88 cases for a second or subsequent offence. In 86 of the latter cases sentences of imprisonment were passed in addition to whipping. The Commissioner of Police has prepared a series of statements which show clearly the relief afforded to the High Court by the increased powers given to the Presidency Magistrates under Act IV of 1877. It appears from these statements that during the four years immediately preceding the passing of the Act, 88 persons were convicted at the High Court of burglary and 245 of theft; while during the four years since the introduction of the Act the convictions by the same Court have fallen in burglaries to 43 and in thefts to 95. The Presidency Magistrates are now able to dispose of the great majority of the cases that would under the former procedure have been committed to the High Court for trial. It was stated in the Resolution on the reports of the Commissioner of Police and the Presidency Magistrates for the year 1879, that legal difficulties had interfered with the proposal that sittings of the Honorary Magistrates should be held three times a week for the trial of ordinary criminal cases and three times for the trial of municipal cases, the cost of the bench establishment being divided between Government and the Municipality. It has been found impossible to overcome these difficulties as the law now stands, and the Lieutenant-Governor has therefore allowed the whole cost of the establishment required for the benches to be defrayed from provincial revenues. Since the 1st January 1881, benches of Honorary Magistrates have been sitting regularly three times a week for the disposal of ordinary cases, and on the remaining three days the Magistrates have heard municipal cases. The Chief Magistrate's report shows that the Honorary Magistrates have taken great interest in their work, and as only one or two days will now intervene between their sittings, it will be possible to make over to them serious cases which cannot be finished at a single hearing. During the past year 135 cognizable cases and 77 non-cognizable cases were instituted before the benches, and of the 304 persons put before them for trial 96 were acquitted or discharged, and 208 convicted. The proposal of the Chief Magistrate that a check should be placed on pawnbrokers by compelling them to enter in their books all articles pledged with them in such a manner that they can be identified should be separately submitted through the Commissioner of Police. It is impossible for Government to deal with such a question as this when reviewing an Annual Administration Report. When submitting his proposals the Chief Magistrate should state clearly and fully how the check that he proposes might in his opinion best be applied and enforced.

11. Mr. Beverley officiated as Commissioner of Police from the 11th March to the 18th October 1880 during the absence of the permanent incumbent Mr. Souttar, on leave; for the rest of the year Mr. Souttar held charge of his office. The administration of the police force was under the Deputy Commissioner Mr. Lambert for the whole year with the exception of one month when he was on leave and Major Wilkinson officiated as Deputy Commissioner. Owing to the weak state of Mr. Souttar's health, the police department was almost entirely under Mr. Lambert's control, and the Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are due to him for the efficiency of his administration. The Lieutenant-Governor has noticed with pleasure the favourable terms in which the Commissioner of Police speaks of the services of Superintendents Percy, Lamb, Linehan, Robertson, Lynam, Hill, and Hogg, and of certain of the Inspectors.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for information, and for communication to the Presidency Magistrates.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution and of the report be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

HORACE A. COCKERELL,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations [illegible] are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding [illegible] column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 [illegible] reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on [illegible] No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the [illegible]

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column [illegible] page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance [illegible] from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative [illegible] in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations [illegible] direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being [illegible] by 0, and one completely overcast by 1·0.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the New Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of April 1881.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of April 1881 aggregated 2,59,103 maunds, as compared with 1,91,913 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1880, and 2,55,170 maunds carried during the previous month, showing an increase of 67,190 maunds in the one case, and 3,438 maunds in the other. 36,468 maunds of railway material carried during the month for the Eastern and Western Extensions of Tirhoot State Railway have been taken into account

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanation :—

	Mds.
INCREASES.
Coal.—Coal is fast supplying the place of firewood in the district for brick-burning purposes and the increase is attributable to the large supplies of bricks in demand for the Civil Station, and the Raja's palace at Durbhunga and for Road Cess work in both Durbhunga and Muzufferpore districts	3 220
Lime and Kunkur.—This depends on works in construction in the district The Raj Durbhunga and Road Cess are the only large importers worthy of notice	15,359
Potatoes.—This is a temporary increase	1,805
Salt.—As navigation becomes more difficult owing to the rivers being shallow, this traffic leaves the boats for the Railway	1,454
Stone-ballast, &c.—This depends on the requirements of the Road Cess and Engineering ...	1,025
Sugar.—This trade is growing in the district Two concerns that were formerly indigo concerns have now formed themselves into sugar companies in the Durbhunga district, and others will follow their example	1,208
Sundries.—This increase is steady and very satisfactory	25,578
Tobacco.—The outturn of tobacco has been very good this year, and the prompt attention given to the despatches of this traffic has transferred a good deal of it from carts to the Railway ...	34,599
DECREASES.
Food grains.—Previous month's remarks are applicable to this	6,837
Fruits, fresh.—Despatch of Lichees began earlier last year than this, and the crop is not at all plentiful this year. This decrease is likely to continue	2,037
Ghee.—This staple fetches a higher price locally than in the outside markets	1,373
Gunny-bags, empty.—This depends on the export of grain, seeds, &c., &c.	4,083

MOZUFFERPORE,
The 26th May 1881.

A. W. U. PORE, Offg. Traffic Superintendent.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Patna-Gya State Railway for the month of April 1881.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of April 1881 aggregated 1,79,325 maunds, as compared with 1,66,812 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1880, and 1,56,770 maunds carried during the previous month, showing an increase of 12,513 maunds in the one case, and 22,555 maunds in the other. Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanation :—

INCREASES.

	Mds.
Jaggree.—This is one of the chief staples of traffic on this line and is largely exported to stations on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway. This traffic has steadily increased since the opening of this railway	9,340
Opium.—This is a temporary and the increase is satisfactory. The opium season is now over ...	13,030
Seeds, oil.—The new crop has been favourable in the district and hence the increase	18,763
Sundries.—Increase under this head is steady and satisfactory	12,863
Tobacco.—Gya is a famous place for native tobacco, and the export of the same is consequently large	4,450

DECREASES.

Chillies.—The despatch of chillies began earlier last year than this	7,351
Coal.—This depends entirely upon the requirements of the Road Cess and Engineering Department	4,916
Food-grains.—Previous month's remarks are applicable to this	10,870
Ghee.—This was an export traffic to Howrah, but owing to large quantities of ghee being exported from stations in North-Western Provinces, which fetch lower prices in Calcutta than the ghee from the Gya district, the export has diminished	1,696
Iron.—This traffic fluctuates in accordance with works under construction in the district... ...	1,060
Salt.—There is no more demand in the district on account of the market being over-stocked ...	3,834
Saltpetre.—Previous month's remarks are applicable to this also	[illegible]
Stone-ballast.—This was exported to Patna for municipal purpose; the decrease is attributable to their being no demand for metalling roads, &c., at Patna and Bankipore	7,471
Sugar.—On account of high prices, transactions in sugar are at a stand still	[illegible]

The deposit of two per cent. will be returned if an allotment is not made, and it will be forfeited if an allotment, after being made, is not fully taken up.

In case a less number of debentures is allotted than is applied for, the excess of the deposit will be applied in, or towards payment of, the balance due upon such number as may be allotted.

Tenders in the annexed form should be filled up and sent to the Secretary to the Port Commissioners before noon of Wednesday, the 29th day of June, accompanied by a receipt from the Bank of Bengal for the deposit of 2 per cent. upon the amount of debenture applied for. The tenders will be opened in the presence of the Port Commissioners.

The minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted will be recorded under the signature of the Chairman and before the tenders are opened, but will not be made public unless some tender is rejected, only on grounds below the recorded minimum.

Forms of tender can be obtained on application to the Secretary to the Port Commissioners, and the form of debenture can be seen at the office of the Bank. A separate tender must be made for each rate.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the four weeks ending 23rd April 1881.

Report on Goods Traffic for the four weeks ending 23rd April 1881.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SEALDAH TERMINUS.

Dated Calcutta, the 27th May 1881.

From—JAMES BRANDER, ESQ., Traffic Superintendent,
To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, Sealdah.

FROM the attached report of traffic for four weeks ending 23rd April last, it will be seen the total maundage of goods carried over this Railway during that period was maunds 6,86,461, being an increase of maunds 80,993, as compared with the corresponding period last year.

From the report it will be observed this increase is mainly contributed by the following staples: viz. cotton, jute, turmeric and miscellaneous goods. There has, however, been a decrease in grain, including rice, salt, seeds, and sugar.

Increases.

Cotton in bundles and bales ... ... Mds. 6,886
As stated in last report, the market prices still continue firm.

Jute in drums and bales ... ... ,, 57,782
The satisfactory increase of this commodity is principally owing to the improved market prices at home.

Turmeric ... ... Mds 2,965
There is a good demand for turmeric for local consumption, and the new crop is obtaining good prices.

Miscellaneous goods ... ... Mds. 1,21,393
Under this head we have again to report a very satisfactory increase, due doubtless to the continued improvement in trade generally throughout the country, and the facilities now afforded to merchants and others for the conveyance of their goods.

Decreases.

Grain, including rice ... ... Mds. 13,315
The demand for rice has fallen off considerably, and market prices have somewhat declined.

Hides ... ... ,, 5,954
Since last report the transactions in hides have been small, owing to the dull state of the market, and few demands for export.

Salt ... ... Mds. 10,780
The market continues dull, and prices are low, consequently little doing; but I expect this commodity will soon increase.

Seeds ... ... Mds 43,419
The demand has slackened and prices have fallen off, and sellers are not disposed to sell at the decline.

Sugar ... ... ,, 5,270
The market prices continue low, and there is little or no demand for export, the transactions being simply local.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 16,365
The only business doing is of a local character; prices are high and much above home valuations, consequently there has been nothing doing in export, but the Calcutta trade with Burmah should now spring up, which will give this trade a spring.

Twist, "European" ... ... Mds. 4,533
There is still a falling off in this branch of trade owing to dull market and few buyers.

Resolution in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 3574, dated the 3rd November 1880, regarding the procedure to be employed in obtaining for the public service supplies of stores of other than Indian origin or manufacture.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor-General in Council finds from proposals that have been recently made in two or three instances that considerable misapprehension exists as to the extent of the discretion left to local authorities by paragraphs 4 and 5 of the Resolution cited above in the matter of the local purchase of stores of the kind referred to. As this misapprehension seems to be mainly due to the wording of these paragraphs, His Excellency in Council considers it advisable to explain more clearly the intention of the orders.

2. Every effort should be made to supply the wants of Government by the purchase in the local market of articles of bona fide local manufacture. The special attention of local Governments is directed to this point.

3. In the event of articles being required which cannot be manufactured in India, they are, as an almost invariable rule, to be obtained by indenting on the Secretary of State. The Store Department at the India Office constitutes a special agency which is maintained for the express purpose of purchasing stores in England on account of the Government of India. That Department should be able to supply stores of as good quality and at as cheap a price as they can be obtained through private agency, the employment of which must necessarily involve the payment of a commission.

4. The special cases in which, with the previous sanction of the Government of India or of the local Government, stores of European manufacture may be obtained in the local market are—

1*st.*—When for any special reason it may be more economical to do so.

2*nd.*—When stores indented for from England have not arrived, and inconvenience to the public service is anticipated from delay in the supply.

3*rd.*—When articles are perishable.

Books and newspaper are, under the terms of paragraph 3 of the Resolution No. 3574 of 3rd November 1880, exempted from the general rule which obliges all European articles to be obtained as a general rule by indenting on the Secretary of State.

5. It has in some cases been alleged that articles of European manufacture can be obtained through the agency of local firms more cheaply than by indenting on the Secretary of State. If local Governments have reason to believe that in respect to any particular article this statement is correct, the facts of the case should be communicated to the Government of India for such action as circumstances may upon consideration appear to demand. But until further orders the principles laid down in his resolution are to regulate the purchase of stores.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be communicated for information and guidance to—all Departments of the Government of India, all local Governments and Administrations,

all Accountants-General and Comptrollers,
the Mint Masters, Calcutta and Bombay,
the Director-General of the Post Office of India,
